

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a great privilege to be able to work under the efficient guidance of Professor P.K. Dongre, Dean of the Faculty of Psychology and Education, M.S. University of Baroda. His encouragement, abundant good-will enabled me to carry out this research program and take it to the stage of fruition. I sincerely express my gratitude to him.

I am grateful to Professor M.S. Yadhav, Coordinator, C.A.S.E. (Center of Advance Studies), M.S. University of Baroda, Vadodara to have considered my case sympathetically in registering me for this research.

My appreciation also goes to Dr. S. Padmansabhaiah, Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati, for his aid from time to time and all others, whose individual names would otherwise form a long list if listed here, for their assistance from time to time, without which the completion of this study could have been delayed and difficult.

Rama Chugani