

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

To fulfill a dream, it needs to be first converted to an aspiration, then executed and further nurtured to accomplish into an achievement. The task of research is no effortless requiring ability, inspiration, patience, perseverance, blessings, good wishes and prayers. The task was not easy, but the journey was made easier by help, support, concern, stimulation and rejuvenation of precious populace. I would like to take this opportunity to offer my heartfelt thanks to a number of people without whose constant help and encouragement, this thesis would never have been possible.

First of all, I am heartily gratified to Honorable Sir Sayajirao Gaekwad, the founder of The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, for establishing such a wonderful and multidisciplinary education foundation.

I would like to express my deepest gratitude to my mentor and esteemed Supervisor, Dr. D. R. Joshi, Associate Professor, Applied Physics Department, Faculty of Technology & Engineering, The M S University of Baroda, for his supervision, advice, and guidance from the very early stage of this research as well as giving me freedom to explore my ideas, timely impetus, requisite facilities and extraordinary experiences throughout the work. His truly scientific intuition has made him as a constant oasis of ideas and passions in science, which exceptionally inspire and enrich my growth as a student, a researcher and a scientist. I am privileged to work under his guidance and improve my intellectual and managing skills.

I owe my deepest gratitude to Prof. Yashesh H Gandhi, Prof. K V R Murthy, Prof. B S Chakrabarty, Prof. Arun Pratap for their valuable suggestions, help and necessary laboratory facilities whenever sought for.

I would like to express my cordial thanks to Dr. Yogesh D Kale, Associate Professor, Department of Applied Sciences and Humanities, A D Patel Institute of Technology, New Vallabh Vidyhanagar, Anand, Gujarat for his unconditional and timely help, Technical and moral support and useful research oriented guidance which helped me a lot to achieve my target.

With great reverence, I also express my debt of gratitude to Dr. Falguni Bhattacharya, Scientist, Institute of Seismological Research (ISR), Raisan, Gandhinagar, Gujarat, India for providing technical guidance and instrumentation facility to analyse my samples for TL and OSL.

It is my privilege to acknowledge Prof. Sanjay J Dhoble, Department of Physics, R.T.M. Nagpur University, Nagpur, Maharashtra to allow me to use departmental facility for my PhD research work.

My sincere thanks also due to the Physics Department, Saurashtra University, Rajkot for providing ball milling facility and technical support for preparing nano synthetic quartz samples. I am thankful to the Metallurgy Department, Faculty of Technology & Engineering, The M S University of Baroda, Vadodara, SICART, Anand, ERDA, Vadodara and SAIF, IIT Mumbai for giving instrumentation support to characterize my samples.

I take this opportunity to sincerely thank the University Grant Commission (UGC), New Delhi for the financial support in term of UGC-RFSMS Fellowship during this course.

I gratefully acknowledge the gift sample of Synthetic quartz provided by Center of Glass and Ceramic Research Institute, Kolkata, India.

I take this opportunity to express my thanks to non-teaching staff members at Applied Physics Department, Faculty of Technology & Engineering, The M S University of Baroda for their kind cooperation.

I would also like to extend my appreciation to my colleagues and friends Trilok Akhani, Soham Chauhan, Avni Patel, Laxmi Tomer and Purvi Bhatt for their advice and their willingness to share their bright thoughts with me, which were very fruitful for shaping up my ideas and research.

Where would I be without my family? My family deserves special mention for their inseparable support and prayers. Whatever Endeavour I have put to complete this work, would not have been possible without their support. I wholeheartedly and deeply thank my father Mr. R. S. Parashar, my mother Mrs. Suraj Parashar, my father-in-law Mr. Rajendra K Pathak and my mother-in-law Mrs. Asha Pathak, for their never-ending love and support throughout the years and their encouragement and confidence in me. Words fail me to express my gratitude and emotions to my husband, my daughter, my brother and sister for their dedication, unconditional love and persistent confidence in me. I owe for their patience until completion of my dissertation.

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who are important to the successful realization of thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention them personally.
