

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Undertaking this PhD work has been a truly life-changing experience for me, and it would not have been possible to do without the support and guidance that I received from many people. Hence, this a small effort to express the attitude of gratitude to all of them for being with me at various stages of this long research journey.

I would like to first say a very big thanks to my Guide Dr P.C. Mankodi, Professor, who has been a great and tremendous mentor for me. I would like to thank him from core of my heart for the encouragement, support and for allowing me to grow as a research scientist. His advice on both research as well as on my career have been invaluable. Few words cannot describe the constant support and guidance that I received from him throughout the study. His peaceful and friendly nature, motivating, inspiring and positive suggestions reflect his varied experience and knowledge which made my path easy and comfortable to complete this PhD thesis.

My sincere thanks to Prof. Pragna H. Parikh, Head of the Department, for her constant encouragement and motivation for completing my thesis. The teachers of the Department of Zoology have provided me an immense support and encouragement, so I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Dolly Kumar, Dr. Geeta Padate, Dr. Kauresh Vachhrajani, Dr. Suresh and Dr. Ranjitsinh Devkar.

I greatly appreciate the support received from the non-teaching staff members Late Sangit bhai, Hitesh bhai, Shailesh bhai, Hemant bhai, Rajesh bhai, Gulab bhai and Urmila ben in various administrative tasks.

My heartfelt thanks to the administration and In-charges of CMFRI - Veraval, Fisheries officers of Veraval and Sutrapada, In charge of MPEDA - Veraval for helping me in providing secondary data as an when required.

My special thanks to late Dr. Abhay Desai, Principal, Fisheries college of Veraval - Junagadh Agriculture University, for helping me in all the way I required for my research.

This PhD study would not have been possible without the corporation and support extended by the fisheries communities of Sutrapada. My deep appreciation goes out to the local fisherman Mr. Rajnikant, Premji bhai, Rathod Tulsi, Rathod Hitendra, Rathod Varun, Bariya Jalpesh, Bariya Naresh, Sikotoriya Mahek, Sikotariya Sandeep and Vanj Madhav. Their excellent work during data collection has made an invaluable contribution towards my PhD. I am also grateful to them and their families – for their friendship and the warmth they extended to me during my work of PhD.

I am indebted to all my friends and family members Mr. Somnath, Mr. Shashikant, Mrs. Kabita, Mrs. Shefali and Mrs. Reema who opened their homes to me during my visit to Baroda and who were always so helpful in numerous ways.

Special thanks to My Mummy, Papa, Father-In-Law and Mother-In-Law without their blessings, support and motivation this research could not be possible. I salute you all for the selfless love, care, pain and sacrifice you all did to shape my life and future. I would never be able to pay back the love and affection shown by you all.

A very special thanks to Mr. Dhaval Bhatt for his invaluable advice, his precious time, periodic feedback, and that played a major role in the compilation of my thesis. His effort in final formatting and printing of this thesis is highly appreciable. He is the man who was always on his toes for helping me directly and indirectly for this great journey. I am also very grateful to Miss Gazala who helped me in preparing and editing the fact sheet, Miss Jalpa for the map preparation and editing of photographs of fishes and Mr. Hardik, Miss Asmita and Miss Pooja who all helped me in numerous ways during various stages of my Ph.D. I have had the great fortune of benefiting from the wisdom, encouragement, and support of Dr. Kangkan Jyoti Sarma for his initial support in this research and Dr. Khushali Pandya who helped me in the final compilation of my Ph. D. thesis.

I owe thanks to My dearest Wife Mrs. Padma Singh for her continued and unfailing love, support and understanding during my long journey of Ph. D degree that gave me strength to

You were always around at times I thought that it is impossible to continue, you were the one who always motivated and keep things in perspective. I appreciate my darling daughter Ishika Singh for her sacrifice and who always believing in me and encouraging me to follow my dream. Words can never describe that how grateful I am to both of you.

My sincere thanks and gratitude to The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara for inculcating in me the academic and intellectual pursuits.

It would be inappropriate if I don't express my sincere thanks and gratitude to the management, Principal and staff of Dalmia Public School, GHCL campus Sutrapada for giving me the place to work and helping me to achieve my goal.
