It would not have been conceivable to compose this thesis without the assistance and backing of the individuals around me. I am obliged to every one of them, anyway here I might want to specify. God has been truly kind to me in giving quality and love to push ahead in this undertaking which has been loaded with peaks and he has given me boldness that empowers me to confront all the difficulties during my research works.

It gives me great pleasure to acknowledge my indebtedness and profound sense of gratitude to my supervisor, Prof. (Dr.) Haribhai. R. Kataria, Dean, Faculty of Science, Professor of Mathematics, Department of Mathematics, Faculty of Science, The M. S. University of Baroda, Vadodara, Gujarat, India, for not only portentousme the research problem, but also for his eminent guidance, constant encouragement, constructive counselling, stimulating discussions, affectionate encouragement and keen inspiration throughout the course leading this investigation to a successful accomplishment. I am grateful to him particularly for his kindness, hospitality and understanding and for all the help and advice I have received from him not only related to the work but also on various aspects during the course of my investigations.

My thanks go to the entire faculty members and staff in the Department of Mathematics for assistance in my Ph.D. study. I am highly indebted to them for being there. I cannot forget the cooperation and encouragement that I have always received non-teaching staff of the department also.

I express my deepest sense of gratitude to my beloved parents Shri. Hasmukhbhai Patel and Smt. Kailashben Patel for their moral support, innocent love, unfailing patience, affectionate encouragement, kind co-operation and valuable blessings. My heart felt regard goes to my mother in-law, Smt. Kokilaben Patel, brother in-law Kuanl Patel for their love and moral support. Words are not enough to express my affection amiable thanks to my brothers Dharmesh Patel and his family, Jalpesh Patel and his family for their encouragement and unselfish commitment to support me; right from the registration till the successful completion of this journey. And thanks to my better half, Nipa for being always there for strengthening my confidence, constantly motivating me in all the situations, also my loving daughter Arya and son Devansh for being such a good kid for always cheering me up and their love provided me a great relief in the minor crisis of confidence. They are the reason for this successful journey.

Very special thanks to my loving friends Dr. Maunik Jani, Mr. Vishant Shah, Dr. Vinay S. Patel and Dr. Akhil S. Mittal for helping me throughout my research work and providing insights.

I am thankful to library staff and administrative staff of the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara. I am also indebted to all those researchers whose work (quoted in the bibliography) consulted. Finally, my thanks go to all the people who have supported me directly or indirectly for my research works.
