

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It has been my special privilege to have had the good fortune of working for my Ph.D. thesis under the able guidance of Professor D.M. Desai, Dean, Faculty of Education and Psychology. I wish to acknowledge my deep debt of gratitude to him for his personal interest, encouragement and continuous guidance given to me throughout this investigation.

I am thankful to Dr. S. Bhattacharya, the then Reader in Education, Centre of Advanced Study in Education; to Professor T.P. Lele, Ex-Dean, Faculty of Education and Psychology; to Dr. N.S. Pathak, Reader in Psychology who helped me in some way or the other in completing this research work. I extend my thanks to the students who served as sample for the study and to the Principals and Lecturers of the Colleges covered by the study for assisting me to collect the data needed.

I am also grateful to the U.G.C., New Delhi, for awarding scholarship that enabled me to work for Ph.D., to Dr. M.B. Buch, Head, Centre of Advanced Study in Education, and to Mrs. Saroj Padhye, Librarian, CASE, for the facilities provided to me.

I am highly thankful to Shri C.U. Desai who helped in proof-reading, to Shri N.G. Bhavsar and Shri H.M. Shah who helped me in getting the thesis typed so neatly in so short a period.

I express my appreciation to my wife who has provided me constant inspiration and encouragement in completing this work.

Lastly, I thank all the friends - too many to mention by name - who helped me directly or indirectly in completing this research work.
