

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to express, in the first instance, my deep sense of gratitude to Dr. (Miss) S.L. Patel, Lecturer in Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S. University of Baroda, for her most able guidance, consistent help, clear direction and most valuable suggestions during the conduct of the present study. Without her sustained interest and directions, this study would not have been carried to a successful completion.

With pleasurable memory I owe my grateful thanks to my husband, Dr. Taweeep Sirirassamee, Assistant Professor, Faculty of Education, Silpakorn University, Thailand, who inspired me to take up research in Education. His constant support and encouragement from the beginning to the completion of this thesis bring my research work to a successful completion. With deep sense of gratitude I offer my thanks to him.

I express my thanks to Prof. (Dr.) N.S. Pathak, Head Department of Psychology, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S. University of Baroda, for his valuable suggestions and directions during the conduct of the present study.

I express my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. M. S. Yadav, Faculty of Education and Psychology for his suggestions and guidance during the conduct of the present study.

I express my thanks to Prof.(Dr.) D.B. Desai, Dean and Head, Department of Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S. University of Baroda, for providing the necessary facilities during the conduct of the present study.

I express my thanks to Dr.(Miss) T.P. Lulla, Lecturer in Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology, for her valuable suggestions during the conduct of the present study.

I wish to express my thanks to the President, Lecturers and students of Nakorn Pathom Teachers' College, Ban Somdej Chao Paya Teachers' College, Suan Sunanda Teachers' College, and Chombueng Teachers' College, for their helps and co-operation during the time of collecting the data for the present study. I express my special thanks to the student teachers who were the subjects in the present study.

I wish to express my thanks to the Ministry of Education and the Thai Government, for providing me a chance for study leave with full pay to take-up research in Education.
