This thesis could not have been completed without the ideas, encouragement, cooperation, and assistance of numerous individuals. First, and foremost, I would like to glorify the Almighty for the determination and strength he gave me through my studies despite the challenges I faced during the period of my research.

I am extremely thankful to my guide, Prof. (Dr.) G.C. Maheshwari for all the patience and persistent support during the course of my research. His insight, knowledge and gentle persuasion helped me at all phases. I am indebted to Prof. Maheshwari for his kind gestures, perpetual encouragement and meticulous attention received from him. I can never forget the contribution of Mrs. Maheshwari, in whose house I stayed for long periods. She was like a mother to me and she looked after me as her own daughter preparing for some examinations and tolerating my idiosyncrasies. Her demeanor has always been very inspiring and motivating.

I would also like to extend my sincere gratitude to the Dean of Faculty of Management Studies, Prof. (Dr.) J.D. Jadeja for his time, energy, helpfulness and encouraging words. He was instrumental in helping me out with the various administrative issues at the department during the course of my research.

I am very fortunate to have friends who provided substantial support and encouragement during all phases of the dissertation process. My friends Dr. Jyoti Achanta and Ms. Khimya who went out of the way to accommodate me and my needs.

I would like to express gratitude to the executive managers at ICRISAT and Indigm Consulting Limited for granting me permission to conduct this research within their organization. The staff at both the organizations was highly cooperative and cordial and gave me time out of their busy schedule. Their insight, knowledge, openness and sincerity were instrumental to this study.

I would also like to put in words and share my thoughts for the unflinching support, encouragement extended by my husband Dr. Suryakant Sharma, my daughter Ayushi Sharma and my son Anchit Sharma. They have somehow managed and understood my extended absence from home. I am sure in the course of my PhD work, I have certainly neglected my duties and responsibilities as a wife and mother. Without the support and encouragement of my family, it would not have been possible to complete my thesis.
