

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The thesis is an outcome of my research work undertaken for the partial fulfillment of the requirements for the Degree of the Doctor of Philosophy (Ph.D.) in the faculty of Management Studies at the The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda (MSU), Vadodara, India. At this stage, I acknowledge the profound contribution in the course of research by scholarly personalities both in the University and outside.

Firstly, I am indebted to my erudite and respected guide Professor Dr. Surendra Sundararajan for his enriching guidance and support throughout the course of the research. His in-depth and profound knowledge coupled with his constructively critical supervisory acumen have led this research to arrive at its desired end. I am deeply grateful for his painstaking effort in making astute suggestions towards meeting the objectives of the study.

I am thankful to Prof. Dr. Jayraj Jadeja, Dean, Faculty of Management Studies, The MSU, for his co-operation in administrative matters that he rendered with an ever smiling face. I am also thankful to the staff Faculty of Management studies for their support during the course of the study. I also express my deep gratitude towards Prof. Dr. M. Sreehari, formerly of The MSU, for lending his expertise in the statistical dimension.

Shri Bipin Chemburkar, Director, Capiq Engg. Pvt. Ltd., Vadodara, deserves special thanks for his unrelenting support in helping me to gather essential primary data for the conduct of this research. His support allowed me for the smooth conduct of this research. I also acknowledge the assistance rendered to me by Shri Monal Parikh on Narayan Powertech Pvt. Ltd. for helping me with providing primary data on Forward contracts. I take this opportunity to thank Mr. Ajay Sinha of Access Computech Pvt. Ltd. who helped me with primary data collection.
