

LIST OF TABLES

=====

TABLE NO.	PAGE
A : Data Regarding Semester System as Functioning in a Few Selected Indian Universities (Sources - Syllabuses and Other Documents) ..	22
B : Sample for the Questionnaires ..	99
C : Sample for the Attitude Scale ..	100
1.1 : Details regarding Initiation of the Semester System ..	116
1.2 : Details regarding Responses Expressed for various Objectives in Implementing the Semester System ..	117
1.3 : Responses regarding Flexibility in the Formulation of the Courses ..	119
1.4 :: Details regarding Reasons for Flexibility of Semester Courses ..	120
1.5 : Difficulties faced by the Teachers in the Formulation of the Courses ..	121
1.6 : Details regarding Reasons for Preference of Courses by Students as Expressed by Teachers ..	122
1.7 : Details regarding Reasons for Non-Preference of Courses by Students as Expressed by Teachers ..	124
1.8 : Personnel Involved in the Formulation of the Courses ..	125
1.9 : Upgradation of the Courses in the last Three Years ..	126
1.10 : Facets of Upgradation as Expressed by Teachers ..	127
1.11 : Responses regarding Non-upgradation of the Courses ..	127
1.12 : Practice of Credit System in the Universities ..	128

TABLE NO.		PAGE
1.13	: Teachers desirous of Changing the existing Credit System in their Department..	129
1.14	: Responses of Satisfaction with the existing courses ..	130
1.15	: Responses for the Improvement of the Courses ..	130
1.16	: Suggestions for the Improvement of the Courses ..	131
1.17	: Responses Expressed by Teachers with regard to Opportunity to Adopt Alternative Teaching Method ..	133
1.18	: Use of the Alternative Teaching Methods by Teachers ..	134
1.19	: Use of Methods of Teaching under the Semester System as Perceived by Teachers ..	137
1.20	: Responses of Teachers regarding Uptodate Reading for Teaching under Semester System..	138
1.21	: Reasons for the Uptodateness in Reading and Teaching ..	139
1.22	: Student Tasks considered by Teachers as Motivating under Semester System ..	140
1.23	: Allotment of the Assignment to the Students.	142
1.24	: Expressed Modes regarding Correction of the Assignments ..	143
1.25	: Distribution of Reference Material ahead of the Teaching ..	144
1.26	: Distribution of Reference Material to the Interested Students who go beyond the Discussion ..	145
1.27	: Responses of the Teachers regarding the Difficulty to bring Change in Teaching Methods under Semester System ..	146

TABLE NO.	PAGE
1.28 : Reasons Expressed for Difficulty to bring Changes in the Teaching Methods	..147
1.29 : Reasons Expressed in favour of bringing Changes in the Teaching Methods	..147
1.30 : Mode of Assessment of Students as Expressed by Teachers	..151
1.31 : Constitution of Internal Assessment	..152
1.32 : Internal Assessment as a Continuous Assessment	..153
1.33 : Responses regarding Internal Assessment as encouraging Innovation and Experimentation in Teaching Method	..154
1.34 : Reasons for considering Internal Assessment as encouraging Innovation and Experimentation	..154
1.35 : Responses regarding Internal Assessment as Increasing the Workload of Teachers	..155
1.36 : Responses of Teachers regarding Aspects of Instruction causing Increase in Workload	..156
1.37 : Satisfaction of the Teachers with the Internal Assessment	..157
1.38 : Remedial Measures Suggested by the Teachers regarding Internal Assessment	..157
1.39 : Prevalence of Grade System in the Universities selected for Study	..160
1.40 : Respondents Expressing Preferences over Numerical Marking	..161
1.41 : Reason for Preference of Grade System over Numerical Marking	..161
1.42 : Grade Scales Adopted by different Universities Selected for the Study	..162
1.43 : Mode of Grades by the Teachers	..163

TABLE NO.	PAGE
1.44 : Grade Point Average in the Universities Selected for Study	..164
1.45 : Mode of Awarding the Grade Point Average	..165
1.46 : Responses of Teachers' Need regarding the existing Grade System in the Department/ Faculty	..165
1.47 : Suggestions for the Improvement of the Grade System	..166
1.48 : Responses of Teachers regarding the Intro- duction of Question Bank	..167
1.49 : Responses regarding Question Bank as it relates to the Improvement of Teaching and Learning under Semester System	..168
1.50 : Responses regarding Question Bank as bring- ing Improvement in the Teaching-Learning Process	..169
1.51 : Responses regarding Question Bank as Not Improving for the Teaching and Learning Process	..170
1.52 : Responses of the Teachers regarding the Academic Improvement of the Students under the Semester System	..171
1.53 : Reasons for the Academic Improvement of the Students	..172
1.54 : Difficulties faced by the Teachers under Semester System	..176
1.55 : Suggestions for the Efficient Functioning of the Semester System	..177
2.1 : Prevalence of Semester System in the Univer- sities	..181
2.2 : Suitability of the Semester System	..182
2.3 : Differences of Percentages Between the Under- graduate and Post-graduate Students for the Suitability of the Semester System	..183

TABLE NO.	PAGE
2.4 : Reasons for the Suitability of the Semester System	.. 184
2.5 : Differences of Percentages Between Under-graduate and Post-graduate Students for the Reasons of Suitability of the Semester System	.. 185
2.6 : Reasons for the Unsuitability of the Semester System	.. 186
2.7 : Student Responses in respect of Inability to Understand the Discipline as a whole due to Fragmentation of Courses	.. 187
2.8 : Reasons for Inability to Understand the Subject as a Whole under the Semester System..	188
2.9 : Reasons expressed by Students with regard to their Preferences of Courses under the Semester System	.. 190
2.10 : Reasons Expressed by Students for Non-Preference of the Courses under the Semester System.	191
2.11 : Mode of making Choice of the Courses of Study by Students	.. 192
2.12 : Differences of Percentages Between Under-graduate and Post-graduate Students for the Choice of Courses of Study under the Semester System	.. 193
2.13 : Necessity for Guidance in the Selection of Subjects	.. 194
2.14 : Advisors are Available in the Universities	.. 194
2.15 : Responses of Students regarding Satisfaction with Current Methods of Teaching under Semester System	.. 196
2.16 : Reasons Expressed by Students for being Satisfied with the Current Methods of Teaching under Semester System	.. 196

TABLE NO.	PAGE
2.17 : Reasons for the Dissatisfaction of the Students with the Methods of Teaching under the Semester System	.. 197
2.18 : Student responses regarding the Present Evaluation under the Semester System being Sound	.. 199
2.19 : Reasons Expressed by Students for the Soundness of the Present Evaluation	.. 200
2.20 : Dissatisfaction of the Students with the Present Evaluation under the Semester System	.. 200
2.21 : Priorities of the Students for the Evaluation Pattern	.. 202
2.22 : Reasons for the Priorities	.. 203
2.23 : Prevalence of Internal Assessment in the Universities	.. 204
2.24 : Reactions of the Students towards Internal Assessment	.. 205
2.25 : Internal Assessment should be under the Semester System	.. 206
2.26 : Differences of Percentages between the Undergraduate and Post-graduate Students towards the Internal Assessment	.. 207
2.27 : Reasons for the Support of the Internal Assessment	.. 208
2.28 : Prevalence of External Examination in the Universities	.. 209
2.29 : Responses regarding the Satisfaction of the Students with the External Examination	.. 210
2.30 : Reasons for Dissatisfaction with the External Examination	.. 211
2.31 : Evaluation of Answer Scripts by Teachers in the Universities	.. 212
2.32 : Prevalence of Grade System in the Universities.	213

TABLE NO.	PAGE
2.33 : Satisfaction of the Students with the Grade System	.. 214
2.34 : Availability of the Grade Point Average in the Universities	.. 214
2.35 : Adoption of Grade Point Average in the Universities	.. 215
2.36 : Reasons regarding Improvement of existing Grade System	.. 216
2.37 : Suggestions for the Improvement of the Grade System	.. 216
2.38 : Responses regarding Whether Introduction of the Semester System improves the Study Habits of the Students	.. 218
2.39 : Aspects of Study Habits which Receive Improvement	.. 219
2.40 : Differences in terms of Percentages Between the Under-graduate and Post-graduate Students towards the Study Habits of the Students	.. 220
2.41 : Responses of Students regarding Agitation	.. 222
2.42 : Reasons for the Dissatisfaction among Students with the Semester System	.. 222
2.43 : Need for the Improvement of the Semester System	.. 223
2.44 : Differences of Percentages Between the Under-graduate and Post-graduate Students for the Improvement of the existing Semester System	.. 224
2.45 : Suggestions for the Improvement of the Semester System	.. 225
2.46 : Differences of Percentages Between the Under-graduate and Post-graduate Students regarding the Suggestions for the Improvement of the Semester System	.. 227
D.1
3.1 (A): Mean and Standard Deviation (S.D.) of Teachers and Students on the Attitude Scale	.. 231

TABLE NO.	PAGE
3.1 (B) : Attitude of Teachers and Students towards the Semester System	..233
3.2 : Differences of Attitude towards the Semester System among Teachers of different Universities	..236
3.3 : Differences of Attitude Towards the Semester System among Students of different Universities	..239
3.4 : Difference of Attitude among the Teachers and Students within the University	..241
3.5 : The Different Aspects of the Semester System.	244
3.6 : Different Aspects of the Semester System, their Mean, Rank and Correlation between the Teachers and Students	..245
3.7 : Difference Between all the Teachers and Students in Their Attitude Towards the Semester System	..248

---