

Acknowledgements

First and foremost I would like to express my sincere gratitude and thanks to my guide Dr. Avani Maniar for her continuous support, for her patience, inspiration, and immense encouragement. It has been an honour to be her first Ph.D. student. I appreciate all her contributions of time, ideas, to make my Ph.D. experience productive and stimulating. The joy and enthusiasm she has for research was contagious and motivational for me, even during tough times in the Ph.D. pursuit. She has routinely gone beyond her duties to fire fight my worries, concerns, and anxieties, and have worked to instil great confidence in both myself and my work.

Most importantly, I owe a lot to my parents, Mr. Rajul .B. Mehta and Roma .R. Mehta who encouraged, helped and supported me endlessly at every stage of my personal and academic life, and longed to see this achievement come true. Special thanks to my mother for standing by me like my shadow and accompanying me at the time of data collection and for being with me in each and every stage of my PhD. Without their support it would not have been possible for me to accomplish my research.

Sincere thanks are extended to Prof. Rameshwari Pandya, Head, Department of Extension and Communication, Faculty of Family and Community Sciences, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Vadodara for her valuable suggestions, advice, constructive criticism at the time of validation of the tool and various stages of the study.

I show extensive gratitude to all of the silver workers who warmly contributed their stories, histories, and experiences. Without this willingness to share, the research would not have even been possible in the same vein. I also want to express my appreciation for cooperation to all the business houses, banks, corporate, firms, and who have supported and obliged me by providing required details during data collection.

I would like to extend great thanks to Mr. Harendra Parmar for helping in statistical analysis of the data, from Psychology Department, Faculty of Education and Psychology. The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara for helping in statistical analysis of the data.

I am really grateful to Dr. Jitesh Parikh for generously offering time for the grammatical checking of my thesis.

I would like to extend special thanks to my friends and fellow mate Ms. Dhara Bhatt and Ms. Leena Chauhan, for the stimulating discussions, their constant support various capacities towards completing this study and for all the fun we have had. I specially thank Ms. Sarika Patel for her support during data analysis phase.

- Ms. Shivani Mehta