

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the Present world of competition there is a race of existence in which those are having will to come forward succeed. Doctorate is like a bridge between theoretical and practical working. With this willing, I joined the course. Writing a significant scientific thesis is hard work and it would be impossible without the support of various people.

Gurus always inspire, ignite the imagination and guide us to reach out the success. I first of all, express my sincere gratitude and earnest thanks to my mentor Prof. Neerja Jaiswal, for her guidance, continuous support and motivation throughout the journey of my PhD research. Her enthusiasm and encouragement had enormously helped in progress of my study.

I extend my sincere thanks to Dr. Shilpi Saraswat for her positive reinforcement, critical comments and valuable suggestions at various stages of research. I am also thankful to Mr. Ishwarbhai Patel, Mr. Robinbhai Christian and Ms. Nishita the non-teaching staff of the department for their cooperation in issuing timely thesis and providing the equipments all along my research work.

I am thankful to all the owners of Marble Industry owners, Kishangarh and the marble cutting workers who had spared time to be a part of this research. A sincere thanks to the Marble Industry owners who allowed me for the execution of the Ergonomic Intervention Programme.

I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to Mr. Robert Macwan for extending his help for me for collecting the data on Vibration of the Marble cutting workstation.

I dedicate this thesis to my parents Mrs. Monica Paul and Late Mr. Veerkumar with special regards. I want to extend a respectful gratitude to My dearest Grandfather for always guiding me and encouraging me for pursuing my studies for teaching me everything and being happy in my accomplishments. I genuinely have no words to express for my dearest apples of my eye my siblings Nishu and Niku. I am nothing without their notorious acts, timely cheer and unbound love. The innumerable gifts, the gentle reminders that I can do it.

This work is incomplete without their mention. A special shout out to all my cousins specially Adhyayan for taking me to Kishangarh innumerable times despite of his busy schedule and studies.

I am extremely thankful to my father-in-law, Sh. Bhailalbhai Vankar, mother-in-law, Smt. Jyotika Vankar, and brother-in-law, Dr. Sanat Rathod and sister-in-law Ms. Priyanka Rathod for their kind support. I am utterly thankful to the two bundle of joys in my life Dhriya and Dhairya my cute munchkins for always smiling with me, hugging me and giving me “Shakti” to stay strong and positive.

I am extremely thankful to my beloved husband Dr. Jaikumar Contractor, my pillar and my backbone for motivating me to complete this research work. Without his love and commitment, it would not have been possible for me to complete it. With all those sleepless nights and hunger pangs and demands of eating something yummy. Thank you for bearing with me through this journey.

A sincere thanks to Mr Shardul Acharya for helping me for my Statistics and help me solve all of my silly queries.

There are some relations you make which need no validation, but they become such an intrigue part of you that your life becomes unimaginable without them. I would like to express my deep love and gratitude to my beautiful friends Ms. Neha Rathore, her support has no boundaries. A special and very exclusive thanks to my dearest friend, my punching bag Ms. Hinal Trivedi for getting the most delicious home cooked meals and always being there for me. I cannot thank enough to Leena didi, Nidhi didi and Jaya didi for their constant diversions and night outs for freshening up. A special thanks to Megha didi, Dhara didi Shivani didi and Dhawal didi for guidance in the paperwork and providing support whenever I needed. A genuine thanks to Ms Rakhi and Ms. Himani Shah for being available and helping me during the times of need.

I acknowledge gratefully the direct or indirect help of my relatives, well-wishers and friends in the successful completion of this thesis.
