

LIST OF FIGURES

Figure No.		Page No.
Figure 1.1.1	Illustration describing Learning from object	3
Figure 2.4.1	A bilingual label, Kachchh museum	34
Figure 2.4.2	School students, Kachchh museum	35
Figure 2.4.3	Brochures, Watson museum, Rajkot	38
Figure 2.4.4	Display of Harappa related artefacts at Watson Museum	38
Figure 2.4.5a	Worksheet on Priest King (page 1)	40
Figure 2.4.5b	Worksheet on Priest King (page 2)	41
Figure 2.4.5c	Worksheet on Priest King (page 3)	42
Figure 2.4.6	Researcher recording the showcase display at Amreli	45
Figure 2.4.7	Artefacts and replicas of Indus civilization, The Government Museum, Chennai	47
Figure 2.4.8	Indus Valley Civilization display	48
Figure 2.4.9	Stone tool maker display	48
Figure 2.4.10	Exterior view of Museo-Bus	49
Figure 2.4.11	Exterior view of Museo-Bus	49
Figure 2.4.12	Inside view of Museo- Bus	49
Figure 2.4.13	Inside view of Museo- Bus	49
Figure 2.4.14	Diaroma of Lothal	51
Figure 2.4.15	Stone weights and seals of Harappan civilization	52
Figure 2.5.1	Visitor Feedback form developed by researcher	54
Figure 2.5.2	Completed Feedback Form, Allahabad Museum	55, 56

Figure 2.5.3	Completed questionnaire by resource person, Allahabad Museum	57
Figure 2.6.1	Information Brochure, Lothal, Gujarat	59
Figure 2.6.2	Resource pack on Indus Valley Civilization, CSMVS, Mumbai	60
Figure 2.6.3a	Information Brochure of ASI museums	61
Figure 2.6.3b	Information Brochure of ASI museums	61
Figure 2.6.3c	Information Brochure of ASI museums	61
Figure 2.6.4	Printed Leaflet- Information Brochure of Sarnath, Uttar Pradesh	62
Figure 2.7.1	Resource for learning Stone tools	64
Figure 3.2.1	Mask carving session	73
Figure 3.2.2	Masks created in ‘Carve the Mask’ activity	73
Figure 3.2.3	A participant recreating Harappan wheeled toy in clay, National Museum, New Delhi	75
Figure 3.3.1	Interview and interaction with the resource person	79
Figure 3.3.2a	Filled questionnaire by resource person (page 1)	80
Figure 3.3.2b	Filled questionnaire by resource person (page 2)	81
Figure 3.3.2c	Filled questionnaire by resource person (page 3)	82
Figure 3.3.3	Orientation by the researcher for the participants	84
Figure 3.3.4	Close observation by participants	84
Figure 3.3.5	Participant answering the activity sheet	85
Figure 3.3.6	Participant’s written response	86

Figure 3.3.7	A completed worksheet by the participant (post visit)	87
Figure 3.3.8	Page 2 of the worksheet	88
Figure 3.3.9	Participants being oriented by researcher inside the gallery	90
Figure 3.3.10a	Outline sketch	90
Figure 3.3.10b	Sketch decorated by participant	90
Figure 3.3.11	Observation written by participant about the sculpture	91
Figure 3.3.12	Iconography – view of a participant as written expression	92
Figure 3.3.13	Researcher providing information to participants in the paintings gallery	93
Figure 3.3.14	Written feedback by one of the participant	94
Figure 3.3.15.	Sketches created by participants	95
Figure 3.4.1	Science awareness programme	97
Figure 3.4.2	Mobile exhibition van at Kakrola	97
Figure 3.4.3	Replicas on display which showcases Terracotta artefacts of Harappan period	99
Figure 3.4.4	Diorama of life during Harappan times	99
Figure 3.4.5	Worksheet on pottery	101
Figure 3.4.6	Front page with highlights of Heritage Gallery	102
Figure 3.4.7	Children undertaking worksheet activity	104
Figure 3.4.8	Display objects being observed for worksheet completion	104
Figure 3.4.9	Completed worksheet on Harappan sites	105

Figure 3.4.10	Completed worksheet on pottery designs	106
Figure 3.4.11	Completed worksheet on pottery	107
Figure 3.4.12	Completed worksheet on Harappan seals	108
Figure 3.4.13	Completed worksheet on numbers	109
Figure 3.4.14	Completed worksheet on ancient medicine and surgery	110
Figure 3.4.15	Completed worksheet on ancient chemical laboratory	111
Figure 3.4.16	Completed worksheet on iron casting	112
Figure 3.4.17	Completed worksheet on crucibles	113
Figure 3.4.18	Completed worksheet on Harappan towns and artefacts	114
Figure 3.4.19	Worksheet on Harappan jewellery	116
Figure 3.4.20	Worksheet on stepwells	118
Figure 3.4.21	Prehistoric cave painting in Diorama	119
Figure 3.5.1	Researcher orienting participants	122
Figure 3.5.2	Children observing the display, Dholavira Site museum	123
Figure 3.5.3	Outcome of the activity	123
Figure 3.6.1a	A girl making a bangle similar to Harappan TC bangle	127
Figure 3.6.1b	A human figurine adorned with ornaments made by a student	127
Figure 3.6.1c.	Recreated mother goddess	128
Figure 3.6.1d.	Harappan cart (with rider) recreated by student	128
Figure 3.6.2	Display of recreated objects	129
Figure 3.7.1.	Exterior view of the PSWHMM, Amritsar	131
Figure 3.7.2	Drawings created by children	132
Figure 3.7.3	Researcher showing the process of creating mouldable clay	132
Figure 3.7.4	Sketch & replication of seal by participant	133

Figure 3.7.5	Different age group children making seal replicas during workshop	134
Figure 3.7.6	Seals created by children during the workshop	134
Figure 3.8.1	Interaction with participants	137
Figure 3.8.2	Poster making in process	137
Figure 3.8.3	An interesting poster by participants	138
Figure 3.9.1	Researcher with Ms. Namita Malik at the heritage corner	139
Figure 3.9.2	TC mask making	141
Figure 3.9.3	Prehistoric art on stone	141
Figure 3.9.4	Painted Pot	141
Figure 3.9.5	Kiosk and replicas produced	142
Figure 4.1.1	Display of stone tools and evolution	145
Figure 4.3.1	Display of Cultural landscapes and stone tools	149
Figure 4.3.2a	Children activity centre, Archaeological Museum, Velha, Goa	149
Figure 4.3.2b	Board outside Children activity centre	150
Figure 4.3.2c	Interior view of Children activity centre	150
Figure 4.3.3	Drawings displayed at Children activity centre	151
Figure 4.3.4	Shields kept for tactile corner	153
Figure 4.3.5	Digital chip based coin display technology	154
Figure 4.4.1a	Replica Kit of CSMVS	155
Figure 4.4.1b	Harappan artefacts in Replica kit	156
Figure 4.4.2a	Showcase in CSMVS on Harappan toys	156
Figure 4.4.2b	Showcase in CSMVS on excavated sites	157

Figure 4.5.1	Stratigraphy (reconstructed) display	158
Figure 5.1	The 5P Model of museum learning	167
Figure 5.2	Picture given in worksheet	173
Figure 5.3	Responses from students	173
Figure 5.4	Responses provided by students	173
Figure 5.5	Responses by children	174
Figure 5.6	Description of seal picture by students	175
Figure 5.7	Expression of participants summarised	176