

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present work is the outcome of the efforts, encouragement and goodwill of the people who wanted to see its successful completion. My deeply felt gratitude goes to my parents Sh.Bhagwansinhji Parmar and Smt. Madhuba Parmar and sister Hinaba Parmar for their support and immense patient all through the research work. I am indeed indebted to Professor R.S.Mani for his erudite guidance, meticulous collection of relevant literature for the study and careful scrutiny of the thesis draft. The recommendation from Smt. Sangeeta Singh, IAS, former Principal Secretary, Primary Education, and Sh. R.C.Meena, IAS, Principal Secretary, Tribal Development Department, Government of Gujarat facilitated access at the SSA Gandhinagar, Tribal Research and Training Institute, Ahmedabad and District Primary Education Office, Narmada. Sh. E.P. Desai, former Joint Director, Commissionerate of Schools, Government of Gujarat was unreservedly supportive whenever he was approached. Professor R.G. Kothari, former Vice Chancellor, Veer Narmad South Gujarat University, Surat and Head and Dean, Centre of Advanced Study in Education (CASE) benevolently provided support at the crucial junctures of the study and made possible the timely completion of it. The faculties and research fellows at CASE, Vadodara enriched the study with their valuable suggestions. The contribution of all those who helped and supported the research work in whatever ways is gratefully acknowledged here.

May, 2016

Rupendrasinh Parmar