This endeavour would not have been possible without the divine blessings of the Almighty God. I offer my humble prayers in acknowledgment.

My greatest debt is to my esteemed guide Professor N. Pradhan, Head, Department of Educational Administration, Faculty of Education and Psychology, The M S University of Baroda, Vadodara. He showed faith in me that I could endeavour to research in this area. His insistence on my reflections at various stages of study opened doors of intellectual journey. His immense patience helped me to tide over the various periods of ups and downs during the period of study.

I extend gratitude to Professor S. Kumar, Dean, Faculty of Education and Psychology, The M S University of Baroda, Vadodara and Professor S. C. Panigrahi, Head, Centre of Advanced Study in Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology, The M S University for their support.

I am immensely grateful to the experts who reviewed the concept developed by me. Their insightful reflections helped me to sharpen the concept.

I am indebted to all the Principals of different schools in my study as they permitted me to conduct study in their schools. I acknowledge the immense contribution made by the principal informants who patiently recollected and shared their experiences and perspective with the researcher. Many of them spared time outside school working hours. I must also thank the teachers and the students who were observed during the study.

Dr. P V Xavier, Principal, Navrachana College of Education, Sama, who created space within the institutional regulations to facilitate the conduct of this research. My gratitude to you, Sir for the flexibility and open approach adopted by you.

My brother, Narendra Pachkhede, empowered me by engaging in numerous discussions and teaching me to ask the right questions. Your contribution in my journey of exploration of ideas is immense. My son, Chinmay Talegaonkar and my mother, Vasudha Pachkhede who bore with me when I was immersed in my work and tolerated my occasional negligence of family responsibilities. It was not only this but they created a solid support system for me, my mother took care of the family and my son supported me by doing small jobs for me. My sister, Jayshree Gupte, who always inquired about the progress in my work and encouraged me.

I was fortunate to be surrounded by friends and colleagues who were very supportive. I thank all my colleagues at Navrachana College of Education for their encouragement and support. Thank you Ms. Valli Pillai, I shared and discussed various ideas. Ms. Sarita Upadhyay helped me locate relevant books. However two special friends played a major role. Dr. Archana Tomar showed interest in my work, read and re read the drafts so many times patiently. Her reflections helped. Ms. Rina Choudhary comforted and provided a support when needed most.

My thanks are due to Ms. Hemlatta Rajput who put aside her own work to help me in formatting and checking. This relieved me of the last minute stress.
