

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The investigator wishes to acknowledge his deep debt of gratitude to Dr.B.P.Lulla, Reader in Education, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S.University of Baroda, for his keen interest and continuous guidance in planning and preparing this study. Without his able guidance the present research could not have been possible and the investigator would not have had the joy of learning and working with him.

To Dr.D.M.Desai, Dean, Faculty of Education and Psychology, M.S.University of Baroda, he expresses his sincere gratitude for providing full facilities during the course of study.

His special thanks are also due to Dr. M.D.Patel, Director, Institute of Agriculture, Anand and to Dr. R.M.Patel, Principal, Extension Education Institute on the same campus for providing all the opportunities for this study.

No words are adequate to express the author's appreciation of the ceaseless inspiration given to him by Dr. A.U.Patel, Professor of Extension, B.A. College of Agriculture, Anand.

The author is also mindful of his colleagues in the Extension Education Institute who have encouraged him with sincere help during the course of study. He cannot forget to mention gratefully the sincere co-operation extended by the Heads of the Teachers Colleges and Audio-Visual Education Departments/Units in providing the required information and data for this study.

He is equally grateful to the experts in the field at various levels who rendered the necessary guidance in the process of research.

For the current literature on the Audio-Visual Education, the investigator is indebted to the All-India Department of Visual Education and National Institute of Education, New Delhi.

He is highly obliged to his cousin Vinubhai A. Patel and his wife Kapilaben who provided facilities for his thesis work at Baroda.

Last, but not the least, the author must express appreciation for his wife Manjula, who has taken a deep, personal interest and has provided constant inspiration and encouragement in pursuit of the study.
