

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Initially I was encouraged by Prof. V.R. Amberkar to take up the research in the area of Contemporary Indian Art for which I am grateful to him. As I was involved with teaching in Bombay, I developed an interest in exploring the relationship between art in Bombay proper and that of Western India, as they were formerly integrated into one region known as the Bombay Presidency.

I was fortunate enough to have the able guidance of Dr. Ratan Parimoo, Professor and Head of the Art-History Department, Faculty of Fine Arts, Baroda, for my research. I am grateful for the method under which he made me compile the materials carefully and systematically. The long discussions with him on various problems concerning contemporary art enabled me to see the development of the contemporary art in a proper perspective and allowed me to explore new aspects related to it.

I had the opportunity to meet and obtain much valuable factual data by personally meeting the following critics and artists who are no more alive now, viz. Barrister Oak, Leyden Rudy Van, Bhonsule A.A., Achrekar M.R. I gratefully mention my obligations for their help and best wishes.

I received a warm co-operation from several painters and sculptors from Bombay as well as Baroda. Number of students as well as the staff members from Sir J.J. School of Art, and Sir J.J. Institute of Applied Art as well as those of the Faculty of Fine Arts, Baroda have helped me to complete this research.

I offer my special thanks to the following painters — Miss Ambika Dhurandhar, Shri Taskar, S. Shirgaonkar, N.S. Bendre, G.M. Solegaonkar, B.N. Adarkar, K.K. Hebbar, S.D. Chavda, K.H. Ara, S.B. Palsikar, P.A. Dhond, M.S. Satawlekar, Ravindra Mistry, A.A. Raiba, Sadanand Bakre, H.A. Gade as they gave their precious time to discuss about various aspects concerning Contemporary Indian Art. They also provided me valuable information and allowed me to refer the materials from their personal files.

I am too grateful for the the necessary co-operation given by the Deans of Sir J.J. School of Art and Sir J.J. Institute of Applied Art, Prof. Shantinath Arwade, Prof. H.G. Hanmante and Prof. Vasant Parab.

I received a similar co-operation from the staff members of the Faculty of Fine Arts, Baroda. The Dean Prof. Jeram Patel, G.M. Sheikh, Mahendra Pandya, Raghav Kaneria provided me with important data about their own works as well as about their experiences at Baroda. Prof. V.H. Bedekar also offered useful suggestions. I offer my sincere thanks to them.

My friends Shri. Vasant Sonavani, Mrs. Rajani Prasanna, Sarvashri Engineer, D.V. Wadangekar, Bharat Chavan, Ramesh Kambli from Bombay and Sarvashri Deepak Kannal, Ajay Sinha and Shivji Panikkar from Baroda helped me in compiling the material for the visual documentation.

The students of Sir J.J. Institute of Applied Art, Miss Sharmila Kulkarni, for her calligraphic writing of the titles in the illustrations volume, Mantosh and his friends for the cover design of the said volume and the students of the Faculty of Fine Arts, Baroda — Himanshu, Bharat Pingle, Murli and Maneesha for helping me in arranging the material for the illustrations volume and Pawankar, Dipti and Gauri for helping me in correction of the typed material.

I am also grateful for the co-operations of the authorities of the Asiatic Library, Bombay, for allowing me to refer the files of The Times of India from their collections from the year 1888 upto 1948 and the other files of the Modern Review and The Bombay Chronicle and for granting me the permission to photograph some pages from these files.

I am also grateful to the authorities concerning the Archives of the Art-History Department as I had the advantage of getting lots of information through the collection of plates as well as the catalogues of various individual and group-exhibitions of contemporary painters and sculptors.

1st August 1983.
Baroda.

Nalini Bhagwat.