I take this opportunity with great pride and immense pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude and respect to my guide Prof. Yogesh T. Jasrai. His constant inspiration, innovative ideas and valuable guidance throughout the period of time have proven to be extremely invaluable for me. Without his timely succor, my work would not have assumed this shape of such magnitude.

I sincerely express my gratitude to my Co-guide Dr. Ashok M. Dave, Member Secretary, GSFC Science Foundation, Fertilizernagar, Vadodara and for extending all the facilities, guidance and the cooperation during this work. I also thank GSFC Science Foundation for financial assistance extended for carrying out this work.

I extend my sincere thanks to Prof. M. Daniel Head, Department of Botany, M. S. University of Baroda, for extending the facilities and the cooperation needed during this work.

I thank all the persons, who have helped me in whatsoever manner, since without their much-needed assistance, I would have not been in a position of completing this work.

No word can acknowledge the contributions of my beloved family. Heartily thanks to my younger sister (Khushbu), daddy, mummy, didi, hubby, Jiyaji and my adorable sons (Vedansh and Aadi) for their abundant love, support, patience co-operation and encouragement without which I could not have accomplished this work. It is their strong faith, love and prayers have shown me the dawn of the day.

Finally, I thank 'GOD-The Almighty' for His kindness towards me for the successful completion of my work and giving confidence whenever required.
