

IMPLICATIONS

1. Development of an ECCE Framework: The development of framework for ECCE is particularly important for policy makers, programme executers and researchers that may help in enhancing the quality of ECCE programmes and subsequently reduce the drop out rates in primary and middle classes.
2. Restructuring the Training Modules: Restructuring the training modules which may focus on broadening their perspective and also to deepen their understanding of child development concepts. The need is to train and motivate the workers in progressive manner, particularly concentrating on the involvement of parents and tapping their tremendous potential as a group. It is advisable to organize motivational workshops for programme executers to better equip them for their roles, which is to be performed under difficult circumstances.
3. Strengthening the Role of Administrators for Community Mobilization: Need to strengthen the decentralization process by encouraging the village education committees, to take up their role more seriously in generating the support from the community.
4. Regulation on Opening of and Functioning of ECCE Programs. Due to growing commercialization the Quality of service has become variable in nature. Thus there is a need to have an effective Regulatory body.
5. Infrastructural Facilities Need to be Strengthened: Infrastructural facilities should be strengthened as per local requirements like space for centers, play equipments, basic facilities etc.