

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I take this opportunity of placing on record my sincere gratitude to all those people who have contributed to my present research work.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. A. G. Phatak, Professor, Department of Statistics, the M. S. University of Baroda, for suggesting the topic and for his able guidance and constant encouragement throughout the preparation of this thesis. His constructive suggestions, intelligent comments and above all his sincerity impelled me to spare no pains in doing justice to the work I had undertaken.

I acknowledge my indebtedness to Dr. C. P. Munshi who had been a source of not only encouragement but inspiration also all along the period of my research work. I very sincerely thank him for his keen interest in the betterment of my career.

I should not also forget to express my gratitude to Dr. D. K. Shah, former Reader, Department of Statistics, the M. S. University of Baroda for helping me in my research activities in the early stage.

I express my gratitude to Prof. H. C. Patel, Head, Department of Statistics for providing research facilities in the department.

I am also grateful to Professor M. Sreehari, the former Head of the Department, the University authorities and UGC for awarding the research grant for conducting a minor research project entitled " Study of the Optimal Design of Control Charts". The grant helped me to purchase the books and the journals useful for my research.

I convey my gratitude to my colleague Mr. V. A. Kalamkar, Lecturer, Department of Statistics, for his valuable help in computer analysis throughout the period of the research work. I am also grateful to the staff of the Computer Centre, the M. S. University of Baroda for making available computer facilities.

I am extremely thankful to Mrs. Varsha D. Chitania and Mr. Rajni M. Patel for neatly executing the output of this thesis on computer in a very short period of time. I should not miss thanking Mrs. Ratnaprabha Ranade for neatly typing the various research papers prepared by me during the present research work.

I am grateful to all the members of the office staff of my department for extending their willing cooperation whenever I needed.
