

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This work which studies the economic aspects of Higher Education in Tamil Nadu on the basis of data collected on the spot and from published sources, has been carried out under the guidance of Prof. V.N. Kothari, Head of the Département of Economics, the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Baroda. It was Prof. Kothari who suggested this topic and kindly accepted to be my research guide. It was his encouragement, affection and support that enabled me to undertake this study. Without his expertise in the field of Economics of Education and critical comments at every stage of my writing, this thesis would not have been completed. I express my sincere gratitude to him.

I am grateful to Prof. S.R. Hashim, Dr. M.M. Dadi, and Dr. (Mrs.) M.N. Shah, for their valuable suggestions and criticisms that helped me to develop the main direction of this project. I extend my thanks to the members of the staff of the Department of Economics and to my fellow research scholars for their constructive criticisms and generous encouragement.

I am thankful to the University Grants Commission for extending to me its facilities to do research under the Faculty Improvement Programme.

I also wish to acknowledge the co-operation and assistance I have received from the Directorates of Collegiate, Technical and Medical Education, Government of Tamil Nadu, and to the Principals, Staff and students of the colleges I have surveyed.

Dr. Das Gupta, Messrs. Vijay Gupta and Soham Desai of the Operations Research Group, Baroda, have extended their valuable help in processing the data on the computer. The members of the staff of the Srimathi Hansa Mehta Library, M.S. University of Baroda, Baroda, have been of great assistance. Mr. K. Prabhakaran Nair, the typist, has done an excellent job of his work. Messrs C.P. Ignatius and P.V. Antony have been generous with their services. I thank them for their co-operation and services.

I will be failing in my duty, if I do not record how indebted I am, to the Salesians of Don Bosco, in a special way, to Reverend Fathers Benjamin Puthota, Tony D'souza and Jacob Puthenveettil, without whose generous encouragement, assistance and support, this study would not have been possible.

And let me say a word of "Thank You" to Almighty God for the courage and strength He gave me to accept and bring to a successful end this challenging task.

Baroda,

Dated 25th March, 1981

P.P. George
