

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The potentiality of a plant to grow is conceived within the seed but it also needs a favourable environment without which the growth is quit impossible. Similarly the completion and presentation of dream work is solely the result of my efforts and potentialities but it would have been quit impossible in the lack of proper environment. So, I must not forget to acknowledge the contributions of others and express my deep sense of gratitude to them.

In this context, above all I feel much obliged to profer my sense of gratitude without arier'-pencie', to my guide and ambient laureate, Dr. A. C. Sharma, Reader, Department of Physics, M. S. University, Vadodara, for his benevolent instructions, constructive criticism and constant inspiration throughout my investigation that generated and created my potentialities and led to the successful cumulative culmination in the form of present work. I must accept, his invaluable drops of knowledge and infinite stream of guidance has played such a vital role that can not be expressed in words but may be realized.

Secondly, I pay my regards and thanks to Prof. D. R. S. Somayajulu, Head of Department, M. S. University, Vadodara, for his benign gesture, valuable advise and kind co-operation in providing various facilities.

I am deeply grateful and thankful to all respectable teaching staff and also non-teaching staff for providing their kind support.

It has been of immense benefit to have had the close co-operation of my colleagues Mr.P. Tripathi, Mrs. Aruna Avasthi and other research colleagues, who have helped and provided me a friendly and cooperative atmosphere throughout this endeavor.

I sincerely express my thanks to Mr. D. J. Shah, Mr. Niket Talati and Mr. H. R. Panchal for their philanthropic assistance in all possible ways.

I have no words to express my thanks to my family members. It would have been impossible for me to continue my research without the encouragement and help of them. My esteemed parents were the main pillars of strength for me. I feel great pleasure to acknowledge the moral support and kind affections of my brother and sister and my child NILAY that enabled me to achieve my objective.

The deep insight and meticulous understanding of my in-laws have enabled me to bring this long and toilsome task to successful completion. My wife, SONAL in particular deserves tremendous commendations for her willing assistance, adjustability and support during the hectic period of this work.

Place: Vadodara

Keyur.N. Vyas