

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The investigator wishes her grateful thanks and owes a special debt to Dr. Arvinda Chandra, Professor, Department of Education and Extension for her systematic guidance, constant advice and constructive suggestion and support in conducting her research.

The valuable suggestion and advice provided by Dr A.Shah, Head, Department of Education and Extension is sincerely acknowledged.

Thanks are extended to all the judges for their suggestions in validating the questionnaire.

The investigator expresses her sincere thanks to Dr. Chandra Kataki, Head, Department of Assamese, J.B. College, Jorhat, Assam, for checking the translated questionnaire.

The investigator expresses special thanks to Dr. N.S. Pathak, Dean, Faculty of Psychology and Mr. B. Kalamkar, Lecturer, Department of Statistics, M.S. University of Baroda, for their advice in the statistical treatment of the data.

Mr. K.K. Bansal deserves the thanks and deep gratitude for the help he provided in computerising the data.

The investigator is indebted to the employed women of Jorhat, Assam who were the respondents of the present investigation without whose co-operation the research would not have been possible to conduct.

The help and encouragement extended by the investigator's family members and friends Mr. Arun Behl, Mr. Bijoy Bordoloi and Ms. Vanisha Patel is gratefully acknowledged.

Special appreciation is extended to the computer operators of Midea Point for neat typing of the manuscript.

The investigator is grateful to her husband Mr. Hem Hazarika for his everwilling help and support in various phases of the research. She extends her profound thanks to him and to her dear sons Bhargav and Bhaskar whose love and sacrifice during the period of her long absence was the source of encouragement for the completion of her Ph.D. programme.

Daisy Hazarika