The journey of my research was adventures in its own way, which made me, understand and discover myself in depth and developed scientific attitude. It was 2010 when I enrolled for my Ph. D program with a positive temperament and slight uncertainty at the back of my mind. Things were undefined and path was yet to be made, many things yet to be revealed and explored to reach the horizon. So I pulled up my socks, every night dreaming to work hard and put in efforts to come up with some good work, which will help me to serve the society in some way or other. I also knew that "Every accomplishment starts with the decision to try".

There was a robust and positive force surrounding me always, which directed me and channelized my energy in a positive direction. Thus with this positive belief I planned my take off and entered the new world of science.

I learnt many things from my lab mates and developed collaborative skills. It was great working with all of you Prashant Sir, Hemanta Sir, Archana, Ruma, Ujawal, Riddhi, and Parini. And how can I forget my my juniors (MSc. Students) who helped me to discover myself more as a research scientist and strengthen my critical and logical thinking, I thank you all for your kind efforts for letting me complete my project.

I extend my special thanks to Sumeet Pandey a friend, a brother who always stood beside me in my difficult and easy times and always supported me every now and then.

I thank Ramesh Bhai, Vijay Bhai and Narayan Bhai who played a key role in my research work helping me as supporting staff at the Animal house, taking care of all the rats and were always available whenever needed throughout the day and night.

When there is someone who teaches the real and practical meaning of life then the life becomes more easy going also the solutions for many complicated situations come in one go. He is the person with great vision and thinking who introduced me with myself and helped me realize the true meaning of being a good individual. I pay my gratitude and appreciation to Acharaya Sir for always being there supporting me in my professional and personal life. Sir your guidance and assistance helped me to discover myself growing in a positive direction and enlighten my thoughts in more constructive way.

Person has to be patient enough and mentally strong in order to pursue research program, because things do not happen the way we want them to happen. Only thing which works are innovative and creative suggestions. I found myself to be lucky enough to obtain valuable and relevant suggestions and advices from Sarita Ma'am, Laxmi Ma'am and Pillai Sir. It helped me to clarify my doubts whenever needed. Thanks a lot ma'am and sir your suggestions were always useful and fruitful for me to accomplish my goal.

Prof Ulla, you were very supportive, understanding and always a true inspiration. Working under your guidance and supervision channelized my thinking in more constructive way and helped me to come up with authentic work each day. My lab mates Gabriella, Gratiela, Gosia, Sharon, Patty, Kim, Lidiya and Suisheng were very supportive and accommodating who encouraged me to stay on task and aim higher and higher.
