

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The author feels a deep sense of gratitude to Prof. Rufus Oldenburger, Prof. J. B. Pearson and Prof. K. N. Stanton for introducing him to the subject and extending valuable guidance. He is also highly indebted to Prof. S. M. Sen for his inspiring help, encouragement and assistance rendered during the preparation of this work. Thanks are also due to Prof. R.D. Gustafson and Prof. H. C. Khatri for their valuable instructions and critical as well as useful discussions during the entire period.

The author must express his indebtedness to the Computer Centre of Purdue University, U.S.A. for their prompt and efficient service and also to the Dean, Faculty of Technology and Engineering and the M.S. University of Baroda for their cooperation and permission to carry out most of the work at the Purdue University. Finally, the gratefulness to the United States Agency for International Development must be put on record for initiating such an arrangement and offering financial assistantship.
