

List of Tables

1. Sample distribution of respondents.	-	87
2. Sample distribution of programmes content analysed	-	93
3. Time and duration of Doordarshan transmission.	-	103
4. Mean hours of Doordarshan viewing.	-	104
5. Mean hours of weekly Doordarshan viewing of respondents with different characteristics.	-	104
6. Content of Doordarshan viewed by Age, Gender and SES.	-	112
7. Mean duration of cable viewing.	-	114
8. Mean hours of weekly cable viewing of respondents with different characteristics.	-	114
9. Traits attributed to female portrayals.	-	121
10. Frequencies of positive traits of female portrayals.	-	123
11. Frequencies of positive trait attributions by respondents with different characteristics.	-	129
12. Frequencies of negative traits of female portrayals.	-	132
13. Frequencies of negative trait attributions by respondent with different characteristics.	-	136
14. Frequency distribution of respondents based on their reality perceptions of female portrayals.	-	140
15. Mean scores of respondents on perceived reality of female portrayals.	-	141
16. Frequency distribution of respondents on their perceived social expectations female portrayals.	-	144
17. Mean scores on perceived social expectation role of female portrayals.	-	144
18. Frequency distribution of respondents based on their identification levels.	-	148

19. Frequencies of portrayal identification by SES, Gender and age.	-	150
20. Mean scores on identification with female portrayals.	-	153
21. Correlates of perceived reality, perceived social expectations role and identification.	-	159
22. Product-Moment and partial correlations among perception variables.	-	160
23. Perception of Gender on Doordarshan by SES, Gender and Age.	-	164
24. Perception of importance for gender on Doordarshan by SES, Gender and Age.	-	165
25. Perception of women's issues on Doordarshan by SES, Gender and Age.	-	169
26. Gender differences in week day programmes.	-	182