

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

A research study of this type could not have fructified without the inspiration, guidance, encouragement and help of several people at different stages. It is therefore, a fitness of things, that I may take this opportunity to express my sentiments and heartfelt gratitude to those who have contributed their mite in the completion of this study

My foremost debt and thanks are due to my research guide Prof. S.K. Singh. It is difficult for me to express my indebtedness through words. He not only initiated me in the subject but also gave constant guidance, candid comments and constructive criticisms throughout the course of my work. He encouraged me during my occasional moments of frustration and inspired me to persevere till the very end. He had also enlightened me about the art of writing. I owe my profound gratitude to him. I also thank his family members for their kind support.

I am also thankful to Prof. B.S. Patel, the Dean, Faculty of Commerce, and all colleagues in the Department of Business Economics and Faculty of Commerce for their constant help and encouragement in my research work. I also express my thanks to office staff members of Faculty of Commerce and Smt. Hansa Mehta Library of M. S. University of Baroda

I wish to express deep gratitude to my elders, brothers and sisters and well-wishers for their blessing and unfailing support in completing this research study. I must also thank Midea Point for their flawless typing and timely completion of the work. I should also express my sincere thanks to Mr. Anand Iyer for data analysis, without which this study would have remained incomplete.

Last but not the least, I express my sincere thanks and gratefulness to my wife Neeta and daughter Disha who had to bear the brunt of my long absence from home and suffer without complaining, in the course of this study. I wish to thank them from bottom of my heart for their patience and unfailing support.

(Dinkar N. Nayak)