

Acknowledgements

This thesis is an outcome of my five years journey in PRL. During this tenure I met many individuals without whom this journey would have not been possible. First and foremost, I sincerely express my gratitude to my thesis supervisor Dr. Jyotiranjana S. Ray. Without his sincere guidance and help this thesis had not been possible. Despite being a beginner, I learned the concepts of geochemistry and intricacies of the field from him through his meticulous ways of pursuing various aspects of science. His innovative suggestions, critical comments and discussions were very fruitful and helped me to improve my thesis. He provided me ample freedom to carry on my own plans.

I am grateful to Dr. A. D. Shukla, Dr. Vinai Rai, Dr. Ravi Bhushan, Dr. Sunil Singh and Dr. Navin Juyal, for their sincere guidance, involvement and concerns during the thesis. Their scientific suggestions and support helped me in various laboratory activities. I am thankful to Dr. Hetu C. Sheth of Indian Institute of Technology, Bombay and Dr. Rajneesh Bhutani of Pondicherry University, for their concern, scientific motivation and encouragement which helped me a lot in initial stages of my work. I express deep sense of gratitude to Prof. L.S. Chamyal of M.S. University of Baroda, for his guidance and support.

I thank Profs. J. N. Goswami (Director, PRL), A. K. Singhvi, R. Ramesh, M.M. Sarin; S. V. S. Murthy and Drs. Deshpande, M.G. Yadava, K.K. Marhas, R. Rengarajan, Namit Mahajan, Neeraj Rastogi and Sanjeev Kumar for encouragement during various session of interactions with them. I would also like to thank the academic committee PRL for suggestions in improving the thesis. I also acknowledge the help and support of my friends at Pondicherry University without which 'Shree Ganesh' of this work would not have been possible. Life at PRL was really pleasant-courtesy the companies of Sudheer, Neeraj Srivastava, Virendra Jaiswal, Raoji, Pandaji, Durga Prasad, Jayesh bhai, Bhavsar Bhai, Vaghela bhai, Pranavji, Manan and Lakhan.

I also acknowledge the help and support of my batch mates including Srinivas, Ashish, Arvind, Praveen, Satinder, Prashant, Tapas, Patra, Jayati, Moumita, Ketan and Khan. The company of my seniors Shreyas, Sanath, Satya, Ritesh, Rudra, Rohit, Khuswaha, Alok, Gyan, Sumanto, Rahman, Kirpa, Ashwini, Bhavik, Mr. & Mrs. Naveen

Gandhi, Zeen, Ruby, Mauryaji, Arvind Singh, Amzad, Rohit, Suman, Ashok, Praveen, Anand, Sandeep, Srikant, Soumya, Vimal, Bhaswar, Pankaj, my juniors Sunil, Arun, Chinmay, Sharad, Gaurav, Damu, Ikshu, Anirban, Saweeta, Shraddha, Chitrabhanu, Sneha, Upasana, Dipjyoti, Balaji and Aslam and all the younger students who kept me rejuvenated. I would like to specially thank my TL-LAB friends Naveen, Rabiul, Sharmaji, Linto, Shinde, Morthekai, Nawaz, Vaidehi, Parth for a very nice company and help whenever I needed. I take an opportunity to express my gratitude to non-PRLite friends Nitesh and Vishal for their help in university matters and Radhe, Ashish, Sanjeev, Ashish Chaudhary for their encouragements.

I also acknowledge the support of all the staff-members of Library, workshop, purchase, computer centre, account, administration, medical and maintenance section for their assistance and cooperation. I thank all those people of coast gaurds, ISRTRAC and IRBN, Port Blair who supported us during our field trips in Andaman and Nicobar Islands.

I owe this thesis to my parents, my brother, in-laws and other family members who always stood by me and provided strength in pursuing this work. I would like to thank my wife Jyoti, for her tremendous moral support and help she extended to me all the time.
