

LIST OF TABLES AND FIGURES

• Table 1: Genre Adaptation of Primary Texts.....	208
• Figure 1: A radio cabin established in the year 1966, which also had a television set in a village near Dabhoi, Vadodara, Gujarat.....	30
• Figure 2: A still from the episode 29 “Trial of the Green Blazer”, representing Gandhi.....	99
• Figure 3: A still from the episode 32 Mithaiwala, representing Gandhi.....	99
• Figure 4: A still from episode 1 The Hero, representing Gandhi.....	100
• Figure 5: A still from episode 15 Iswaran, representing Tradition and Modernity.....	100
• Figure 6: A still from episode 2 Muni representing Tradition and Modernity.....	101
• Figure 7: A still from episode 3 The Missing Mail representing Tradition and Modernity.....	101
• Figure 8: A still from the episode 1, representing Benegal’s Gandhian approach and concerns to educate the marginal as well as Congress’ effort to highlight Gandhi and Nehru.....	112
• Figure 9: A still from episode 48, representing the congress ideology of conservatism and modernity.....	112
• Figure 10: A still from episode 48, representing the efforts of Congress in the betterment of the nation-state.....	113
• Figure 11: A still from episode 1, representing the questioning of the protagonist of where is he heading?.....	117
• Figure 12: A still from episode 3, representing humorous encounter of tradition and modernity.....	113
• Figure 13: A still from the episode 7, representing the swinging of the protagonist between traditions and modernity.....	113
• Figure 14 A still from one of the episodes stating the title of the series in English and Hindi.....	153

• Figure 15 A still from Bharat Ek Khoj that has the title of the series of adaptation chose the series title as Mr. Yogi.	157
• Figure 16 A still from the series of the title Mr. Yogi.....	163
• Figure 17: A still from Malgudi Days episode 7, talkative man narrating first person narrative.....	230
• Figure 18: A still from episode 5, of folk Pandavani form for narration of Mahabharata	231
• Figure 19: A still from Mr. Yogi having narrator Om Puri on the frame.....	233
• Figure 20: Illustration of Malgudi Railway Station.....	240
• Figure 21: A Still from episode two of “Mithaiwala”, Malgudi Days (1988).....	240
• Figure 22: An illustration of Mali from episode two of “Mithaiwala”, Malgudi Days	241
• Figure 23: A still from the episode two of “Mithaiwala”, Malgudi Days , portraying Mali.....	241
• Figure 24: An Illustration of the story “A Horse and Two Goats” adapted as “Muni”.....	242
• Figure 25: a still from the episode “Muni”.....	242
• Figure 26: A still from the episode 10 of Bharat Ek Khoj , portrayal of Buddha.....	244
• Figure 27: A still from episode 47 of Bharat Ek Khoj , portraying Swami Vivekananda.....	245
• Figure 28: A still from the episode 49 of Bharat Ek Khoj portraying Gandhi.....	246
• Figure 29: A still from the episode 49 of Bharat Ek Khoj portraying Gandhi.....	246
• Figure 30: A still from the episode 7, representing the swinging of the protagonist between traditions and modernity.....	247
• Figure 31: Map of Malgudi.....	251

- Figure 32: Red Rose in the background in the beginning credits of Bharat Ek Khoj.....254
- Figure 33: R.K. Narayan receiving an award from Jawaharlal Nehru (Source: Indian Express).....274
- Figure 34: A still from episode 7 where R. K. Narayan appears on the TV screen.....275
- Figure 35: A still from Episode 1, “Bharat Mata ki Jay” Nehru’s address the rural population.....277
- Figure 36: A still from episode 1, Nehru’s image portrayed as a writer on the TV screen.....278
- Figure 37: A still from episode 52, Nehru’s portrayal as a writer on the TV screen again.....278
- Figure 38: A still from episode two of Bharat Ek Khoj, Nehru shown as a knower of history.....279