

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

My head bow on the feet of God, for without his blessings this work would not have been possible.

This academic endeavor of mine would not have become reality without the co-operation extended to me by a number of people at different stages of my work.

I am very grateful and deeply indebted to my guide Dr. Dinkar Narsinh Nayak, for his encouragement, advice, valuable guidance, constructive criticism and his faith on me for doing justice to this topic, despite his many other duties and engagements. His guidance, teaching, support as well as mentoring throughout my work was invaluable. I also appreciate his patience and tolerance during my several mishaps. His friendly approach made it a pleasant experience to work under him. Along my guide, I also equally express my gratitude to his wife Mrs. Nita Nayak who has also been a constant support to me during my work.

Apart from my guide, I owe a debt of gratitude to Prof. D.V. Baloni and Prof. A.S. Rao for providing me benefits of their expertise in this field with their valuable suggestion as well for their words of constant encouragement. I am equally indebted to Dr. Akash Kumra, Dr. Anshu Surve Dr. Jayesh Shah for their cooperation and useful suggestion for the study.

I record my thanks to the entire staffs of H.M. Library for furnishing all the required material for the preparation of my work.

I express my sincere gratitude to many other people without whom the collection of data would not have been possible. Some of them are Mr. S.S. Pandey, Statistical Officer, Jilla Panchayat, Vadodara, Mr. Manubhai Patel, Research Officer Jilla Panchayat, Vadodara, Mrs. Madhuben Statistical Officer, DIC, Amreli, Mr. Chavada, Statistical Officer, Jilla Panchayat, Amreli, and Dashrath Patel for helping me in the collection of various secondary data.

Last, but not the least I have deep sense of gratitude to all family members-my parents, my parents in laws, my brothers along with their wives and children as well as my wife Sangeeta for keeping patience, having faith in me and becoming for supporting pillar in completion of my work.
