

Acknowledgements

This thesis is the end of my long journey in obtaining my PhD degree in Biochemistry. I have not traveled in a vacuum in this journey. There are many people who made this journey easier with words of encouragement and more intellectually satisfying by offering different ideas to expand my theories and thoughts. I would like to express my gratitude to all those who gave me the possibility to complete this thesis. It is a pleasure to thank many people who made this thesis possible.

The process of writing a thesis is a long and complicated journey. From the day you choose your topic until the day you turn in the final version, you must fight many battles that block your path and attempt to keep you from reaching the final goal. But if you are lucky, there will always be someone there to catch you when you stumble and put you back on the right path.

First very special thanks to my supervisor and mentor, Prof. Rasheedunnisa Begum, whose help, stimulating suggestions and encouragement helped me in all the time of research and for writing of this thesis. Thank you for bringing out the best in my writing and forcing me to push myself intellectually to my limits. Her expertise in research improved my research skills and prepared me for future challenges.

I thank Head of the Department, Prof. Sarita Gupta for providing the infrastructure and other departmental facilities for my research purpose and thesis writing.

I thank all the faculty members of the department specially Dr. Jayashree Pohnerkar for their helpful suggestions and comments during my study. I am thankful to Prof. L.J.Parekh for providing computer facility which helped me in writing the thesis. I am grateful to the administrative staff in the department for helping me in many different ways. Mr. Pethe deserves special mention.

Special thanks to Prof. V. Nanjundiah for giving me an opportunity to learn about my model system at IISc. Thanks to Dr. Ritwick Sawarkar for helping me in fluorescence studies. I would also extend my gratitude to Dr. Harish Padh and Dr. Bhavesh Patel (PERD center Ahmedabad), Dr. Sonal Baxi (GCRI Ahmedabad), Dr. Shweta Saran (JNU New Delhi) and Dr. Rekha Rai (ACTREC Mumbai) who helped me to overcome a few hurdles that I faced during my Ph.D. I thank CSIR for providing me fellowship during this tenure.

Without the full support of my extensive social network, I do not believe I would have finished this journey as sanely or with the degree of confidence I currently feel. Thanks to my friends, family and colleagues, thank you for understanding why writing this thesis has been such a priority for the last six months and for not forgetting me as I spent long nights and weekends staring at my computer screen.

I would also like to gratefully acknowledge the support of some very special individuals. They helped me immensely by giving me encouragement and friendship. They mirrored back my ideas so I heard them aloud, an important process for this writer to shape her thesis and future work. For this, special thanks to Hina, Priyanka, Aditi and Iqbal. They encouraged me and were with me at every step. Thanks to Hina for continuously editing the thesis. To Aditi, thank you for your thoughtful advice during the writing process. I was lucky to have such good friends. A thank is due to my M.Sc classmates (specially, Abhishek, Mayank, Deepti, Sumita and Deepanjali).

I wish to thank my friends Niraj, Hemendra, Namita didi, Maulik, Keyur, Vikas, Divya, Prashant, Gopit, Jisha, Prakash, Chirayu, for helping me get through the difficult times, and for all the emotional support, camaraderie, entertainment, caring and numerous fruitful discussions they provided at DD tea time. Special thank to our lunch group, Vijay, Purna, Swapnali, Mrinal, Rishikesh for always making a cheerful environment. Thanks to Pradeep, Hiral, Mukta didi, Krishma, Anubha, Nidheesh, Tushar, Akhilesh, Muskaan, Radha, Prasant, Jitendra, Chanchal, Hemanta, Kavita, Vijay junior for helping at times.

I want to thank my all labmates for all their help specially Shajil for guiding in the starting phase. I can not forget the valuable contribution of all M.Sc. dissertation students who worked with me.

To my roommates (Priyanka, Mitu, Pallu), thank you for cheering me up every time I got discouraged, I am indebted to all hostelmates (Deeksha, Janki, Chinmay, Richa, Garima, Sweta, Shruti) and Reena George.

My sisters (Mita and Moomal), brothers (Shashank and Jai) were particularly supportive and were there with me at every step, picking me up when I faltered and supporting me every step of the way. My both sisters deserve special thanks that are with me, always giving me special consideration and keeping me in high spirits.

Lastly, and most importantly, I wish to thank my entire extended family for providing a loving environment for me. I wish to thank my parents. They bore me, raised me, supported me, taught me, and loved me (I love them too). To them I dedicate this thesis. Last but not the least, a bow to the Almighty.

While this thesis has been one of the most challenging experiences of my life, but it has also been one of the most rewarding.
