

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and foremost, I would like to thank God for blessing me with parents, who have patiently put up with all my tantrums and stubbornness'. They have been the driving force for me and coz of them I could achieve this!

God created all unlikely circumstances for me to fight and to be strong and I am really thankful to God for that!

With a deep sense of gratitude I express my thanks to my guide, Dr. Geeta Padate, Lecturer in Zoology, M.S. University for suggesting the topic for my research and also for the constructive criticism and encouragement throughout the work.

I extend my sincere thanks to Prof. A.V.Ramachandran, Head, Department of Zoology, M.S.University. He has been the Guide, Philosopher and a Friend, whose charismatic persona always influenced me.

I am sincerely thankful to Prof. Bony Pilo for all the possible assistance and help during the age of my work.

I am also sincerely thankful to Prof. Ambadkar for all the backing and support during the initial stages of my work.

My note of thanks won't be complete without the names of my teachers like Dr. Kauresh, Dr. Suresh and Ami mam. I am also grateful to Dr. B. M. Parasharya and Ms. Anika for the photographs of my bird model.

My acknowledgements are due for ICAR for funding the project during the period 1997 to 2000 while this work was possible.

As somebody said "friends make journey easy" is very true. I thank God for blessing me with friends who have influenced my life in one way or the other. Aditi ,who has been a tough fighter all her life motivated me; Anubha, a wonderful personality; Arpita, with whom I have shared great moments and seen ups and down many times together; Surajit, for patiently taking out printouts of my references; Bhawna, a friend and a colleague; DC, for addicting me to internet; Geetika, made life a little easier with her witty and humorous chatter; Kinnari and Mounali, with whom I spent beautiful and happiest hours of my life, thanks to them for making me young once again; Manju, with all the silence amongst us, we understood each other more than ever; Neelima, who has been an inspiration in many ways; Pravin, a buddy with whom I shared my most intimate feelings and always enjoyed her company; Ranjit, more than a friend to me, who helped me 'Grow'; Sapna, the word 'soul mate' justifies all my feelings for her and I'll always cherish the moments spent with her & Jagdeep, a dear stranger;

When it was bumpy going, Alok made it a little easy with his funny (silly) one liner.

Friends list, of course, would not be complete without the mention of Sonali and Shilpa, Archana, who listened to all my complaints without any complaints. Jenny, Nikhil, Durgesh for lighter moments.

Biren for all the pain staking job of formatting and Zala for accompanying me during scanning of my photographs.

I also extend my sincere thanks to all the teaching and non-teaching staff members for the help in someway or the other.
