

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Human Resources play a pivotal role in community organisation and country as a whole. The growth of any organisation is having a direct correlation with its Human Resources. The human resources are highly perishable and critical in its nature so the resources have to be monitored on an on going basis.

I offer my prayers to god the almighty for having given this opportunity to learn, re-learn and unlearn so many things during the past five years.

The blessings of almighty came my way through my Guru and my guide who on every step helped me keep my concentration and stick to the values, Prof.M.D.Vyas, has not only been a teacher to me, but has been a guru, a philosopher and a conscience keeper. I take this opportunity to thank him for his valuable guidance and for all the help that he offered during my association with him.

I thank Professor Anil Navale, Dean & Head, Faculty of Social Work for facilitating my research work and for creating forms and opportunities for getting very important expert opinions and suggestions for my research work. I also thank other faculty colleagues and teachers who have provided their support and guidance.

I want to thank all the participating organisations for giving me the permission to collect sample for my research study. I am highly indebted to the individual respondents who were frank and co-operative enough in giving the necessary information. I thank all the managers, friends in participating organisations who took personal interest in collecting the data.

I am thankful to Prof. A.S.Rao extending help in this study.

I also thank my parents who extended me an unrelenting support and guidance at every step during this past five years who extended their intellectual as well as emotional support during this whole effort. My wife has been on my side all along and played a vital role in helping me complete this task. I thank her for all she has done for me.

I would also like to thank Ms.Soniya Sheth and Niraj Parmar who took pains for typing this thesis.