

Acknowledgements

I wish to express my thanks to Prof. R.N. Mehta, Department of English, M.S. University of Baroda, Baroda, my supervisor, for his helpful comments and especially for his immense patience with my slow and unsteady progress during the course of writing the dissertation.

My thanks to Dr. Birje-Patil, Professor and Head, Department of English, M.S. University of Baroda, Baroda, for going through some portions of my work and giving me some useful insights.

I am also grateful to Dr. Amarjit Singh, Professor, Department of English, Jaipur University, Dr. Isaac Sequeira, Professor, Department of English, Osmania University and Dr. William Mulder, the former Director of the American Studies Research Centre, Hyderabad, for their comments and encouragement at different stages of my study.

I also wish to express my gratitude to the American Studies Research Centre, Hyderabad, and its staff for the efficient help I received from them.

I would also like to thank Dr.V.N. Kothari, the former Dean, Faculty of Arts, M.S. University of Baroda, for having helped me in getting study leave for a year, without which I would have found it impossible to complete the present work.

One's real strength, however, comes from one's personal associations. I, therefore, reserve the deepest expression of my gratitude and debt for my friends, Rani Rubdy, Madhu Gurtu, Bharati Modi and Hemlata Chavan for having sustained and helped me through this effort.