

List of Tables

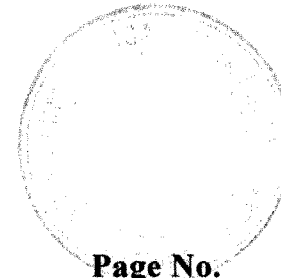

Table No.	Title	Page No.
1.	Summary of key differences between an independent and an interdependent construal of self	13
2.	Family models, parenting and the self	16
3.	Socio-demographic profile of the respondents	52
4.	Components of sanskar	54
5.	Parents understanding about their own religion	56
6.	Age at which parents started thinking about their child	60
7.	Parents reactions when the child began school	61
8.	Traits parents liked in their children	64
9.	Traits parents desired in their child when he/she grew up	68
10.	Developmental goals parents liked/desired in their children at present and in future	74-75
11.	Traits parents disliked in children and did not desire in them as adults	77
12.	Traits parents disliked in their children	78
13.	Traits parents did not desire in their child when he/she grew up	79
14.	Traits parents encouraged and practices they followed	81
15.	Child rearing practices followed by the parents	82
16.	Parental expectations from self	84
17.	Level of analysis and traits parents liked/disliked in young children and desired/undesired in grown up child/ child as adult	92
18.	Mean scores for each item in rating scale	97
19.	Number of items and levels of ratings	97

Table No.	Title	Page No.
20.	Significance difference between construal of self existed in the ideas of the parents	97
21.	t-test for the equality of means between construal of self in the ideas of the parents	100
22.	t-test for the equality of means between gender and religion influences and the existence of self in parental ideas	100
23.	Analysis of variance between gender and religion influences and the existence of self in parental ideas	101
24.	Analysis of variance for interactional effect between gender and Hindu religion and the existence of self in parental ideas	101
25.	Analysis of variance for interactional effect between gender and Muslim religion and the existence of self in parental ideas	101
26.	Reasons mentioned by the parents for the traits they desired/ undesired in their children and the existence of self in parental ideas	103
27.	Existence of form of self in the traits parents desired and undesired in their children	104
28.	Traits parents desired in their children	107
29.	Traits parents undesired in their children	110
30.	Form of self in the ideas of the parents	113
31.	Parental goals and descriptions	119
32.	Gender matrix	124