A single finger cannot catch fleas! This Haitian proverb is endorsed by the support that I received from several individuals and institutions during the last couple of years of my Ph.D. research.

I deem it a matter of great pleasure to express my profound indebtedness to Dr. Padamnabhi Shanker Nagar, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, for introducing me to the subject. He guided me patiently, throughout the work. He provided an atmosphere where I felt free to work, think and grow an ideal environment a researcher could ask for. His constant guidance and encouragement are responsible for this research.

I offer my cordially and profound thanks to Prof. Sandhya K. Garge, Head, Department of Botany, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, for allowing me to work in laboratory and providing me all the possible research facilities during the present studies.

I am indebted to the Forest department, Government of Gujarat, for permitting to carry out fieldwork in the forest areas and wildlife sanctuaries. In particular, Dr. A.P. Singh (CCF, Surat), Shri Anand Kumar S. (DCF, Vyara), Dr. Dheeraj Mittal (DCF, Junagadh) and Shri Agneeshwar Vyas (DCF, North Dangs) for facilitating us during field visits.

I am thankful to the Director/ Joint Director/ Deputy Director and Institutional heads of BSI (Jodhpur), BSI (Pune), BARO (The M. S.
