

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This thesis is the culmination of my journey of Ph.D which was just like climbing a high peak step by step accompanied with encouragement, hardship, trust, and frustration. When I found myself at top experiencing the feeling of fulfillment, I realized though only my name appears on the cover of this dissertation, a great many people including my family members, well-wishers, my friends, colleagues and various institutions have contributed to accomplish this huge task.

O'Lord ! though the word "Thank You" is not enough to express my deep gratitude towards you, Let me thank you for giving me birth on this wonderful planet. Let me thank you for showering your continuous blessing to reach me at this stage, whose blessings have enabled me to accomplish my research work successfully, for the strength that kept me standing and hope that kept me believing that this affiliation would be possible and more interesting.

I am so proud to be a student of "The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda", especially being a student of Faculty of Family and Community Sciences.

From the deepest depth of my heart, to express my thanks, I bow my head to the feet's of my Guru, My Guide, Prof. Komal Chauhan. The respect turns into reverence. Thank you will be so less for providing me special attention, great courage, tremendous knowledge, support and fearlessness at every steps of journey towards the destination. Her calm mind is the ultimate weapon against every challenges I faced. Her own zeal for perfection, passion, unflinching courage and conviction has always inspired me to do more. She has taught me another aspect of life, that, "Goodness can never be defied and good human beings can never be denied". For all these, I sincerely thank her from bottom of my heart and will be truly indebted to her throughout my life time.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Prof. Mini Sheth, In-charge Head of the Department of Foods and Nutrition for her sincere concern and encouragement.

I am extremely grateful to Prof. Uma Iyer, Dean of the faculty of family and community sciences for her constant support and guidance.

I would also like to thank RCC cell of University for providing partial financial assistance for carrying out this dissertation.

Sincere thanks to all my teachers, colleagues, entire teaching, and non-teaching staff of The Department of Foods and Nutrition for their help and support.

I do not find words with which I can express my feeling of thanks to Dr. Debanjana, Ms. Kanchi, Ms. Yamee, Ms. Keshvi for their valuable suggestions and help.

I am grateful to Dr. Birenroy Chauhan, Dr. Yatish Shah, Dr. Harish Desai and Dr. Rajesh shah for permitting me to enroll subjects from their clinic. I am also thankful to the authorities of senior citizen associations and various societies for permitting enrollment of subjects. I also sincerely thank their staff for their patience, co- operation and support.

I feel so honored and blessed and want to express my gratitude for the care and support my family gave me during this journey.

My “Dandvat Pranam” to my Grandfather, Late Shri Kamlakar Joshi and my grandmother Late Smt. Usha Joshi who were so keen towards my education.

I would like to share my sincere indebtedness to my parents Mr. Mahendra Joshi and Mrs. Shweta Joshi, for teaching me to have high expectation and to never be afraid to be the best version of mine. I feel so proud for being their daughter. They always helped me to blossom in my life and career. I want to take a moment to appreciate them for all the things that they have done for me. Many thanks to my younger brother Aman for his all help and love throughout this journey.

My deepest thanks to my in-laws Mr. Devendra Wadekar and Mrs. Sunanda Wadekar for providing me the unflinching support throughout my dissertation. I am also grateful to Smt. Sharayu Wadekar for her blessings.

I owe thanks to a very special person, my husband, CA Deep Wadekar for his continued and unfailing love, support and understanding during my pursuit of Ph.D degree that made the completion of thesis possible. He was always around at times I thought that it is impossible to continue, he helped me to keep things in perspective. Words would never say how grateful I am to him. I consider myself the luckiest in the world to have such a lovely and caring family, standing beside me with their love and unconditional support.

I also extend thanks to all my diabetic subjects for their cooperation and support.

Lastly, I would I like to thank to all those who knowingly or unknowingly made this work possible.
