

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Revering Lord Shree Ganesha, it is wonderful feeling to express gratitude on this momentous event of completion of this research work which was underpinned by numerous persons and organizations who deserve hearty appreciation for their benevolent gesture.

If I look back, throughout the tenure of this research work it is my noble guide Dr. Amita S. Kantawala who has stood consistently behind me to see that I really achieve the goal. Her firm and deep interest in research work related to practical aspect of pedagogical lessons has been useful to me to understand the actual practice in correct academic framework. I also thank to learned members of her kind family who had aspired to see me accomplish this work.

It is my great pleasure to express my grateful thanks to Prof.Dr. G.C. Maheshwari, Professor, Head of the Department and Dean, Faculty of Management Studies, M S University of Baroda for his scholarly suggestions during my course of studies. He has taken parental care of me and provided help in the progress of my work. The co-operation shown by members of this faculty is also worth mentioning.

Respectfully to state, there are numerous experts in the field and in the academics whom I remember at this moment sans enlisting but I carry high indebtedness for their support.

In my office, right from Honourable Secretary, R&B Department Gandhinagar, every body has supported me in this noble cause and spared their valuable time, resources in my favour. It is automatic to remember Shri. Sandeep Vasava, Chief Engineer (National Highway) Government of Gujarat and Shri. D.P. Gupta (Retd. Director General) Ministry of Shipping, Road Transport & Highways, New Delhi for their standing assurance to help out in any difficulties. My superior Shri Bharatbhai Vasava has been most eager to see me accomplish this milestone and I can not forget Mr. Suratia in NH Division, Bharuch who has handled many of my obligations just for respect to academic work. Additionally, Mr. M.J. Patel (NH Godhra) shall remain in my personal diary for all that care taken by him.

The candid discussions provided by Shri Sapre (IL&FS) also deserve humble mention along with co-operation extended by various officials of projects selected in this study. The truckers and motorists spending time with me with a hope for change is unforgettable and reminds me of commitment in this field whenever opportunities seen.

I sincerely thank Alma Mater, School of Planning, CEPT, Ahmedabad for infusing multidisciplinary research orientation during my Post Graduation study and holy culture of Swadhaya Pariwar who enabled me to take up academic work despite full involvement in practical field of Civil Engineering.

I am sincerely thankful to my parents and family members who did bear with me for not giving them adequate time during tenure of this study. The personal feelings for my family friend Bhupesh are natural at this occasion. My wife and my daughters must be expecting relief after passing through a long tenure of stress that they tried to take away from me.

I however admit that what ever deficiencies might have remained in any part of this process and the Thesis, I assume personal responsibility for that.

SATISH PANDURANG KARVEKAR.