

LIST OF TABLES

TABLE NO.	PARTICULARS	PAGE NO.
CHAPTER-I : INTRODUCTION
1	District and Talukawise distribution of R and R sites (Resettlement and Rehabilitation) in Gujarat.	30
2	The sampling frame of the study	31
CHAPTER-II : REVIEW OF LITERATURE
2.3	Dams and the displacement of tribal people	42
2.2	Independent estimates of total persons displaced by dams during 1950-1990	43
CHAPTER-III : PROFILE OF THE RESETTLEMENT AND REHABILITATION SITES AND SOCIAL BACKGROUND OF THE RESPONDENTS
IA	Profile of R and R sites	78
I	Age of the respondents	80
II	Sexwise distribution of the respondents	82
III	Education of the respondents	83
IV	Tribewise break-up of the respondents	85
V	PAF's stay at R-R sites	87
II.1	Respondent's perception regarding prior information given	89
II.2	Respondent's perceptions regarding survey done	90
II.3	Respondent's perceptions regarding issue of compensation notices	91
CHAPTER – IV : RESPONDENT'S PERCEPTIONS OF THE R AND R PROCESS AND PACKAGE
Section-I : During Shift Process
I.1	Respondent's perception regarding facilities availed during shift	94
I.2	Respondent's perception regarding difficulties faced during shift	96
I.3.a	Respondent's response (during shift phase)	99
I.3.b	Wife's response (during shift)	101
I.3.c	Parent's response (during shift)	103
I.3.d	Community's response (during shift)	105
Section-II : Post-shift Process
II.1.a	Respondent's perceptions regarding land	109
II.1.b	Respondent's perceptions of effects of R and R on milch animals	113
II.1.c	Respondent's perceptions regarding good farm income	117
II.1.d	Respondent's perception of availability of employment opportunity at the R and R sites	120

II.1.e	Respondent's perceptions about rise in overall income	125
II.1.e	Respondent's perceptions about rise in food expenditure	128
II.1.e	Respondent's perceptions about rise in health expenditure	130
II.1.e	Respondent's perceptions about rise in education expenditure	132
II.1.f	Respondent's perceptions about rise in saving potential	134
II.1.g	Debt in family increased	136
II.1.h	Respondent's perception about vocational training imparted	138
II.1.i	Loans availed by the respondents	141
II.1.i	Loan Purposes	143
II.2	Respondent's perception of availability of healthcare facility	147
II.3.a	Respondent's perception of education facility at R ad R site (better school & education facility)	152
II.3.b	Respondent's perception about sensitivity of teachers to students learning needs	153
II.3.c	Respondent's perception of difficulties faced regarding	154
II.4.a	Respondent's perception of change in cooking practices	161
II.4.b	Respondent's coping to difficulties due to changed cooking practices	163
II.4.c	Food grains storage facility used by respondents	165
II.5	Respondent's perception water difficulty faced (if any)	167
II.6.a	Respondent's perception of change in costume among women	169
II.6.b	Respondent's perception of change in costume among men	170
II.7	Respondents feelings associated with home	173
II.7	Respondent's feelings associated with home	174
II.8.a	Structure of respondent's families	177
II.8.b	Respondent's perceptions of changes in family structure	179
II.8.c	Changes in family functioning	181
II.8.d	Respondent's perception of change in family functioning (involvement in decision making)	182
II.8.e	Respondent's perceptions of extent of feelings among family members	184
II.8.f	Respondent's perception of feeling of alienation	186
II.9.a	Respondent's perception of their relationship at different sites	187
II.9.b	Respondent's perception of relations between different social groups	192

Section-III : Overall Resultant, Adaptation and Reintegration Potential of Respondents
III.a	Respondent's perception of intimacy among family members	195
III.b	Respondent's perception of their reliance on family members to remedy any difficulty	196
III.c	Respondent's reliance on their relatives and friends during difficulties	197
III.d	Respondent's confidence in their coping with unexpected circumstances	199
III.e	Respondent's response to difficulties in life	201
III.f	Respondent's perception of present life (better compared to same in submergence village)	202
III.g	Respondent's perception of attainment of standard of living	204
III.h	Respondent's perception of their life being interesting	205
III.i	Respondent's perceptions of satisfaction about overall aspects in life	206
III.j	Respondent's perception of improved post-shift situation due to their efforts	207
III.k	Respondent's perceptions of their relations with other PAFs (project affected persons)	208
III.l	Respondent's perceptions of their social participation at R and r sites	210
III.m	Respondent's perceptions of civic amenities at R and R Sites	212
Section-IV : Key-informant's Perceptions of R and R Process
IV.a	Key informant's perception of land acquisition by PAFs at the R and R sites	216
IV.b	Key informant's perception about crop – yield at R and R sites	217
IV.c	Key informant's perception of PAF's adjustment with farming technique	218
IV.d	Key informants perceptions of PAF's adjustment and reintegration potential	219
IV.e	Key informant's perception regarding overall feelings of PAFs towards changes due to R and R	223