 CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION	 1 - 38
1.00 Rationale of the Study	1
1.10 Approaches to the Study of Teacher Effectiveness	8
1.11 Defining Teaching	9
1.12 Identifying the Approaches for Studying Teacher Behaviour	11
1.20 Affective Dimensions of Teacher Classroom Behaviour	16
1.21 Using Pupil Ideas	16
1.22 Using Criticism	20
1.23 Using Approval	22
1.24 Overall Comments for Affective Dimension of Teacher Class- room Behaviour	23
1.30 Cognitive Dimension of Teacher Classroom Behaviour	25
1.31 Explaining Ability	26
1.32 Frequency of Questions	29
1.33 Types of Questions	30
1.34 Probing	32
1.35 Amount of Pupil Participation and Feedback	33
1.36 Overall Comments for Cogni- tive Dimension of Teacher Classroom Behaviour	35
1.40 Implications for Present Study	37
 CHAPTER II THE PROBLEM	 39 - 57
2.00 The Problem	39
2.10 Patterns of Teacher Classroom Behaviour	40
2.20 Pupils' Attainment in Terms of Instructional Objectives	50
2.30 Objective of the Study	53
2.40 Hypotheses	56

CHAPTER III PROCEDURE	58 - 78
3.00 Design of the Study	58
3.10 Variables - Treatment and Criterion	60
3.20 Intervening Variables	60
3.30 Selection of Teachers	61
3.40 Content of Lessons	62
3.50 Programme of Training Teachers	65
3.60 Sample	67
3.70 Instrumentation	70
3.71 The Flanders' Interaction Analysis Category System	70
3.72 The Desai-Bhatt Group Test of Intelligence	70
3.73 The Pre-test of Achievement in History for VII Grade	71
3.74 The Post-Treatment Achieve- ment Test	71
3.80 Data Collection	73
3.90 Statistical Techniques Used	74
3.91 FIACS Matrices and Time- Line Display of Patterns	74
3.92 Descriptive Statistics in Terms of Central Tendency and Dispersion	74
3.93 Product-Moment Correlations	76
3.94 Analysis of Variance and Covariance	77
3.95 Significance of Difference between Means and Standard Deviations	78
IV RESULTS	79 - 137
4.00 Introduction	79
4.10 Descriptive Statistics for Intelligence and Pre-Achievement Scores and Criterion Scores	81
4.11 Descriptive Analysis for Intelligence and Pre- Achievement	82
4.12 Descriptive Analysis for Criterion Variables of Total Attainment and Attainment for Knowledge, Comprehension and Applica- tion Objectives	89

	PAGE No.
4.20 Analytical Approach	99
4.30 Product-Moment Correlation amongst Intelligence, Pre-Achieve- ment and Criterion Variables	107
4.40 Three-Way Analysis of Variance	112
4.50 Analysis of Covariance	126
 CHAPTER V DISCUSSION AND INTERPRETATION OF RESULTS	 138 - 154
5.00 Hypotheses	138
5.10 Discussion	140
5.11 Some Inferences	145
5.20 Implications of the Present Study	150
5.30 Suggestions for Further Studies	152
 VI SUMMARY	 155 - 163
6.00 Introduction	155
6.10 The Present Study	157
6.11 Objectives of the Study	157
6.12 Hypotheses	157
6.20 Design of the Study	158
6.21 Sample	158
6.22 Content of Lessons	159
6.23 Treatments	159
6.24 Instrumentation	160
6.25 Training of Teachers	161
6.26 Statistical Techniques Used	161
6.30 Findings	161
6.40 Conclusions	163
