

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am pleased to present the PhD thesis entitled "Role of Open Learning System in Socio-Development of Women: Comparative Study between Palestine and India". under the guidance of Dr. P.S. Choondawat (Professor & Offg Head of the Department of Sociology-Faculty of Arts).

I am extremely grateful to him for his valuable guidance, encouragement and patience which enabled me to complete this study.

I am also very grateful to all the teaching and non teaching staff in Baroda and Palestine for their valuable help and advice.

Special thanks go to all people working at Al-Quds Open University in Palestine and Indira Gandhi National Open University in India for their valuable help.

I am very thankful to the staff of the SMT Hansa Mehta Library at the M.S University of Baroda in India for providing me all type of library assistance.

I am deeply indebted to the soul of my father and other members of my family which includes my mother, brothers and sisters for all type of support. My children, who suffered during my absence.

I acknowledge my deepest gratitude to my dear wife Nahed, a tolerant and supportive life mate, for inconvenience caused due to the heavy burden of taking the responsibility of both husband and wife.

My friends and relatives always extended all type of support to me during the research period. I am very thankful to my cousin Mr. Hashem Abu Farha, Mr. Amer Shaaban, Mr. Iyad Ghnaim, Mr. Allam Abu Farha, Mr. Mosaddaq Yahya and my niece Mss Hadeel Abu Farha.

I am highly grateful to all those respondent women who provided necessary information and extended their kind co-operation in my research work.

Foreign students like me come to India with complex hesitations. The M.S.University of Baroda has helped a lot to ease these hesitations and encouraged me to do my research work in relaxed atmosphere.

It must be mentioned that I found lovely, cooperative and helpful people in India. This gave me the feeling and satisfaction that I am in my own country and among my own people.
