

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Ever since I embarked on this project over five years ago, I have looked forward to writing this section of the dissertation. This section symbolises the conclusion of this study and at the same time opening up vistas for the new. This section offers me the opportunity to thank everybody who made this study happen.

The first person I would like to thank is Dr. R. G. Kothari, my guide, for guiding me through the intricacies of this research. His in-depth knowledge of research methodology and curriculum studies stood me in good stead.

I am extremely grateful to my parents for their support throughout my life enabling me to pursue my dreams in academics. My parents participated in the editing and typing of this thesis. My brothers, Krishna and Shankar and Shekhar my husband for their immense patience throughout this endeavour; my grandmother and other relatives for their encouragement during this period, my thanks to them.

I acknowledge the support of the faculty of Centre for Advanced Study in Education and especially Ms. Sarojben Padhye the librarian for ensuring access to the relevant literature.

I express my gratitude to the Mistrays for providing me a home away from home. I am thankful to all my friends, especially Eisha and Ramu for their constant encouragement.

Above all I would like to express my appreciation for the schools, teachers and students who participated in the study.
