Without God's blessings, the work described in this thesis would not have been feasible. I must first give thanks to the Almighty God for giving me the strength to finish my doctoral studies. I won't miss the chance at this point in my life to express my sincere gratitude to everyone who supported me during my Ph.D. study and helped directly or indirectly to make my thesis feasible.

I would especially like to express my sincere thanks to my research advisor Prof. C. N. Murthy for giving me the opportunity to pursue a Ph.D. and for introducing me to this fascinating area of study. My desire to learn more about polymer science is greatly influenced by his enthusiasm, support, and expertise in the field. Throughout the whole research process, he gave me complete freedom, and his helpful advice helped this thesis take on its current form. I sincerely appreciate how he is fervent and committed to the research. The trust he has in his students is what makes working with him a memorable experience. Since the very first day of our interactions, I have learned a lot, including how to overcome research difficulties, identify new opportunities in complication, communicate my article, respond to reviewers, write a publication, and more. He has always held a very important place in my life. I pray God to give him a good health, success, and happiness.

I am grateful to Prof. P. T. Deota, Head, Applied Chemistry Department, for his kind support. I am also grateful to Prof. R. C. Tandel for his valuable support during his headship. I would like to thank Dr. Rakesh Sharma for his practical suggestions and constant motivation. I would like to thank Dr. C. K. Modi for his valuable guidance during my dissertation work. I would also like to thank Dr. D. P. Bharambe for giving substantial help during my hard time. Throughout my Ph.D. work, my research colleague Ms. Priyanka Mistry was an incredible support system for me, and I would like to take this opportunity to convey my gratitude for all her help. In fact, the completion of this research effort would not have been possible without her help and encouragement. She is incredibly kind-hearted, and cooperative, and because of these qualities, she has prevented me from being disheartened.

I candidly acknowledge my colleagues Mr. Hemilkumar S. Patel, Mr. Brijesh J. Patel and Mr. Srujal A. Sonera for their moral support whenever needed. They were always there by my side for any kind of help.

I am heartily thankful to Dr. Pavan Karkare for his constant guidance, and support in my research topic. I remember that my first reaction was taught by him. I sincerely thankful to Dr. Ravi Vithlani for his unconditional support during my hard situations.

I would like to thank the dissertation students Vidhi Bhatt, Khushbu Jadhav and Shreya Pathak for their help in the research laboratory.

I am grateful to the Applied Chemistry Department's teaching and non-teaching staff for their support during my research. I am also grateful to Paragbhai, Kaminiben, and Bhavnaben for their support in all non-technical work.

I am highly obliged to the M/s Raychem RPG (P) Ltd., and Gujarat government for SHODH fellowship for providing financial support during my doctoral studies.

My heartfelt gratitude is always due to my spouse, Mr. Nirav Kumar S. Joshi, for his continuous support and patience. His unconditional love, caring, and encouragement have always given me the strength to pursue my objectives and aspirations. His persistence, commitment, and sacrifice will inspire and motivate me for the rest of my life. I do not forget to mention that without his support, I would not be able to recognize my dream and be where I am now. I am also thankful to my brothers, Mr. Vishal G. Mistry, and Mr. Parth K. Soni for their support in my difficult times.

Last but not least, my great father Mr. Ganpatbhai K. Suthar, who strengthened me and served as an inspiration to me, and my loving mother Mrs. Kantaben G. Suthar, who taught me the value of doing the right thing in life, deserve the deepest gratitude in the world. No words can adequately explain the love, concern, and sacrifice that parents give their children, but at this point I feel it is important to tell my parents that they are the reason I am who I am today and have always been the backbone of my life. I must express my special gratitude to my father in law Mr. Shantilal H. Joshi and mother in law Mrs. Kokilaben S. Joshi for their sound care, love and sacrifice being a strength and peace of mind for me which always inspired me to focus on my work, goal, and aim.

Finally, I want to thank everyone who contributed directly, and indirectly to the successful completion of my thesis and apologize to anyone whom I forgot to thank individually.
