I wish to express my sincerest gratitude to all my formal and informal teachers, from whom I have learnt all that I know.

I am indebted to Utpal Sarkar for guiding me through this work, for his extra-ordinary patience, kind understanding; and for teaching me much more than just physics.

My sincere thanks are due to my co-guide Prof. M. S. Shah for her ever-ready and self-less help and to Profs. Anjan Joshipura, S. B. Khadkikar, J. C. Parikh, Saurabh Rindani and many others of theory floor from whom I have learnt a lot during the last so many years.

Thanks to Paulose for everything and Nagesha for the last minute cosmetics.

Thanks also to our librarian Mrs. R. Bharucha, and the staffs of library and theory floor, Viswanathan in particular; and Mr S. C. Bhavsar of the documentation section.

Heart-felt thanks to all my friends at the Institute of Physics, Bhubaneswar and at the Physical Research Laboratory for the warmth of their friendship. I am grateful to all my special friends of Ahmedabad, whose affection made the dusty and dry Ahmedabad worth-living.

Finally, I would like to remember all those persons, who are so special and meaningful to my life that they are beyond any kind of acknowledgement.
