

A Critical Analysis of Women's Empowerment in India:
Uncovering the Continuing Influence of Patriarchy

Thesis

submitted to

The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda

In fulfilment of the requirements for the award of

Degree of

Doctor of Philosophy
in Political Science

by
Dias Fiona Benny

Under the guidance of
Professor Lajwanti Chatani

Department of Political Science
Faculty of Arts
The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda
Vadodara 390002, India

December 2022

Department of Political Science
Faculty of Arts
The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda
Vadodara, Gujarat, India - 390 002
Accredited “A+” by NAAC

CERTIFICATE REQUIRED BY THE ORDINANCE

This is to certify that the Ph.D. thesis entitled “A Critical Analysis of Women’s Empowerment in India: Uncovering the Continuing Influence of Patriarchy” incorporates the results of an independent research carried out by the candidate, Dias Fiona Benny of the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara, Gujarat, under the guidance of Professor Lajwanti Chatani. It is further certified that this thesis has not been submitted to any other University/Institution in India or abroad, for award of any other degree or diploma.

The candidate has complied with all the necessary requirements for submission of the Ph. D. thesis as laid down in the Ph. D. Ordinances of the Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara.

Dias Fiona Benny
Ph. D. Candidate
Department of Political Science

Professor Lajwanti Chatani
Guiding Teacher
Department of Political Science

Acknowledgements

Foremost, I would like to express my gratitude to my thesis supervisor, Prof. Lajwanti Chatani, Professor, Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts. She has been an incredible guide and has supported my thesis with her knowledge and guidance. Her encouragement and patience through all these years has helped me grow as a researcher.

I also express my gratitude to Prof. Amit Dholakia, Head, Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts for his support and encouragement throughout my research. I also thank Dr. Deepthi Acharya, Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts, whose kind and understanding nature helped me the lot during the initial days of my research. I extend my thanks to Dr. Thomas George, Associate Professor (Retd), Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts, whose advice, and encouragement helped me focus on my research. I would also like to thank Ms. Aparna Vijayan and Mr. Pradip Vegad, Temporary Assistant Professors, Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts, whose constant friendship made my research days very memorable.

I cannot emphasize enough on how much the Department of Political Science, Faculty of Arts, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda has contributed to making me into a better researcher and academician. I have been with the department for fourteen years, as a student, a teacher, and a researcher, and it is an honour to submit my research from a department which has taught me the value of knowledge and then given me the freedom to pursue the knowledge I desired. My research is definitely a result of the free and open-minded environment which the department provides for all who seek knowledge here.

I acknowledge the rich and interactive academic environment the Faculty of Arts, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda provides to all those who pursue research over there. As a researcher, the space of creativity provided by the Faculty of Arts and The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda has been invaluable.

I would like to thank my friend Mr. Raja Mohanty, who has always believed in my ability as a researcher and encouraged me to live my dreams. This research would not have been possible without his help and reassurance. I thank Ms. Pallavi Deshpande, Ms. Anusha Sinha, Ms

Fatima Sayeed, and Ms. Dirgha Nanavati, who have been my enthusiastic cheerleaders in my journey as a researcher.

I would like to thank my parents for their endless support. I am especially grateful to my mother, Mrs. Rani Philomena Dias and my sister, Ms. Fontina Dias who have spent many years silently supporting me throughout my research journey. My mother taught me the meaning of knowledge and the determination needed to pursue it. My sister taught me the value of patience and optimism in the face of all problems. You both taught me the most important lesson I needed for my research, and that is, perseverance.

Finally, I thank all those people who struggle every day against oppression and discrimination, your dedication has and will continue to inspire my research.

Ms. Fiona Dias

Vadodara

12th December, 20

