

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

As I have learned during the past years, writing a dissertation in economics is not only a stimulating but also a very challenging undertaking and I have occasionally asked myself whether I would actually be able to complete this project. Now, when the goal finally has been reached, I would like to take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all the people who helped me make this possible.

First and foremost, I would like to thank my supervisor Prof. P.R. Joshi, who motivated me to start this project and his comments and recommendations have been invaluable for me to successfully finish this dissertation.

I have also benefited significantly from the co-operation and discussions with Prof. A.S. Rao. He has been immensely helpful in providing suggestions for improvements of the empirical work.

I would also like to express my appreciation for all comments and suggestions from my other friends, colleagues and well-wishers at the economics department during the years.

My parents and my son have always supported and encouraged me. I owe them a lot.
