

: ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS :

In the completion of my thesis, I have called upon the time, help and generosity of many with whom I was associated at various levels, during the course of this work. Their response has been most cordial and helpful and enabled me to successfully complete the present study.

I owe special acknowledgements to Prof. S.C. Misra, Professor & Head, of Department of History, Faculty of Arts, M.S.University of Baroda, under whose able supervision, constant guidance and encouragement I have throughout laboured.

To the department of History, M.S.University and the M.S.University of Baroda also are my thanks due for enabling me to get enrolled as a Ph.D. student, granting the Junior UGC Fellowship award and for making available to their research scholars all the facilities for the promotion of academic pursuits.

Without the consistent and willing help of Mr.S.K.Varma of the Department of Agricultural Economics, the handling of certain statistical data could not have been possible.

I also express my thanks to the directors and staff of the National Archives, New Delhi, the Central Secretariat Library, New Delhi, the Maharashtra State Archives, Bombay, the Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Poona, the Bharatiya Itihas Samshodak Mandal, Poona and the Central Record Office, Baroda for their gracious help and courtesy extended to me during the course of my investigation.

I am indebted to the Indian Council of Historical Research for their financial help towards the typing and other formalities of the thesis, and to Mr.B.C. Baria for his speedy and good typing at very short notice.

My debt and thanks are surely due to certain seniors and friends by whose discussions and help I profited. In this regard mention may be made of Mrs. Clare Tauro who very generously gave of her time for the tedious and painstaking work of going through the proofs for language correction.

Last, but not the least I would express a deep sense of gratitude to my mother-in-law, my husband and my daughter whose time and demands I liberally drew upon, and without whose unfailing cooperation, the successful completion of this work would not have been possible.

To all these and still others whom it is not possible to mention in this short space, are my thanks due.
