

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The writing and final stage of this thesis could not be possible without the blessings of current Ph. D. supervisor Dr. Adhya Bharti Saxena and Head, Department of History, Faculty of Arts, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara; and Prof. R. J. Shah, Ph. D. Supervisor, Former Dean, Faculty of Arts and Head, Department of History under whom I was registered in August, 2005.

I am also blessed by my all teachers in due process of writing Doctoral dissertation. Few of them are mentioned here: Prof. Gita Bajpai, Prof. S. Hasan Mahmud, Prof. G. A. Pandor, Dr. R. K. Hans, Dr. I. A. Khan, Dr. Vibhuti Parikh, Dr. Aruna Awasthi, Dr. Shama Mahmood, Dr. Maitree Vaidya and (Late) Dr. H. J. Maurya.

I would also like to acknowledge Prof. Yogesh Singh, The Hon'ble Vice-Chancellor, Prof. Amit Dholakia, Registrar (OSD) and Prof. P. S. Choondawat, Dean, Faculty of Arts, The M. S. University of Baroda for granting me necessary extension for the submission of the thesis.

Prof. Deepak Kumar, ZHCES, JNU, New Delhi; Prof. Abhay Kumar Singh, Department of History, Gujarat University, Ahmedabad and other teachers always encouraged me to venture into the field of 'History of Science and Technology'. Deepak Sir furnished me with a number of issues and perspectives for the writing of the thesis that helped me in shaping my argument.

Completion of the writing of the thesis was not possible without the financial support of ICHR and ICSSR. ICHR, New Delhi awarded me two year Doctoral Fellowship and Western Regional Centre, ICSSR, Mumbai sponsored ten days field trip to work in archives and libraries in Mumbai.

I am grateful to Principal Investigator Dr. Adhya Bharti Saxena who selected me to work as Project Fellow on the UGC Major Research Project entitled "Economic and Cultural Dynamism Between Kachchh and East Africa, c. 1500- c. 1850" from 8th

March, 2012 to 30th January, 2012. I am also blessed with teaching assignments in the Department of History, Faculty of Arts, The M. S. University of Baroda, Vadodara as Teaching Assistant since 1st February, 2012 till date. Therefore, I would like to place special thanks to the students in developing question answering skills.

All the staffs of the following repositories are highly appreciated for their support: National Archives, Central Library, Jawaharlal Nehru University, ICHR Library and ICSSR Library, New Delhi; Maharashtra State Archives, Fort Library and J. N. Library-University of Mumbai, Mumbai; Gujarat State Archives, Gandhinagar; Gujarat State Archives (Southern Circle), Smt. Hansa Mehta Library, The M. S. University of Baroda; and Central Library, Mandavi, Vadodara.

Dr. Rajesh S. V., Department of Archaeology, Kerala University; Mr. Pawan Shukla and Mr. Amarjit Singh of Geography Department, Faculty of Science, The M. S. University of Baroda, Vadodara helped me in making maps as per the information available in primary sources.

Dr. D. P. Bharambe, former Chief Warden and Warden, and Mr. Sunil Darji, Warden, Staffs and Residents of Dr. Vikram Sarabhai Hall were always ready for all kind of support during my studies. This support is unforgettable. Mr. N. Keshorjit Singh, Mr. Bhavin Helaiya, Mr. Bharat Rohit and Mr. Tushar Kunte supported me in various ways.

Any errors and limitations in this thesis will be mine.

Finally, I would like to dedicate this Ph. D. thesis to my father Shri Dhrub Mishra, mother Smt. Raj Kumari Devi, uncle Mr. J. K. Mishra, sisters Smt. Rita Mishra and Smt. Rina Mishra and brother Mr. Manish Mishra. Their constant encouragement and motivation helped me to finish the writing of this thesis.
