

Acknowledgements

From the early days of my college-study, I had a sincere desire to study Sanskrit Grammar and could start a bit of it at the lotus-feet of Pt. Shobhananda Jha, the then Lecturer in Sanskrit, Dwarikadhish Research Institute, Dwarika. Due to my father's illness, I could not prosecute further study, but the zeal was intact.

For my Guru Dr. A.N. Jani, Director, Oriental Institute, Baroda, under whose able guidance, I could enter the world of Pāṇini, the unparalleled genius in the field of Sanskrit grammar, I have no words enough to express my feelings of gratitude.

My labour shall be amply rewarded if the dream of preparing the topic-wise analysis of Pāṇini's Aṣṭādhyāyī, cherished by the late Pt. Vidyabhaskara Manishanker V. Upadhyay of Baroda, is fulfilled to some extent by this study. It is regretted that he is not with us to-day to see his dream fulfilled.

I owe my thanks to Prin. Hiralal Shah, Pratapral Arts College, Amreli, Dr. V.G. Parikh, Head, Department of Sanskrit, Pratapral Arts College, Amreli. They facilitated my research work by rendering best possible help. I acknowledge my thanks to Shri J.A. Jani, Lecturer in Sanskrit, Faculty of Arts, M.S. University, Baroda and Prof. V.P. Pandya,

Lecturer in Sanskrit, Prataprai Arts College, Amreli, for their valuable suggestions. I also thank Prof.N.K.Trivedi, Head, Department of English, Prataprai Arts College, Amreli, for going through my chapters from English language point of view.

My thanks are due also to Mrs.Amin, Superintendent, Printed Section of the Oriental Institute, Baroda and Mr.Raval, the Librarian, Prataprai Arts College, Amreli, who generously furnished me the necessary books and periodicals.

It would be lack of ^ocurtsey if I do not express my thanks to Mr.Kuni Raman, the Steno-typist, Amreli, who meticulously typed the present work within a very short period.

I would be failing in my duty if I forget to thank my cousin brother Pravin Trivedi, who gave some valuable suggestions and my younger brother Arun Pathak, my brother-in-law Indubhai Bhatt, my elder son Ashutosh and friends and students, whose help in putting diacritical marks is acknowledged here with great affection.

Lastly I express my hearty thanks to Pravin Cholera, the Proprietor, Pinak Printery, Baroda and his staff, for binding this thesis very carefully within a very short period.

....