

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Contents	Page
	Certificate	2
	Declaration	3
	Preface	4
	Statement I	7
	Statement II	9
	Abbreviations	10
	Summary of the Thesis	11
	Table of Contents	14
Chapter I	General Introduction to Yajña and its importance	17-64
i	Introduction
ii	The purpose of sacrificial worshipping and significance of Agni iii	History of fire and Fire Sacrifice
iv	Origin of fire as a natural phenomenon
v	Early Vedic Fire Worship
vi	Agni (the fire-god): the chief terrestrial deity of the Rgveda vii	Social aspect of fire worship
viii	Position of Agni in Later Vedic age

ix	Brāhmaṇas
x	Connection between Agni and sacrifice xi	Significance and Form of Fire Worship in the Vedic Era
xii	Myths related with Fire- God Agni

Chapter II	Concept and Philosophy of Yajña	65-156
-------------------	--	---------------

i	Types of Yajña and its practical importance ii	Agni-ādhāna (Establishment of the Fires) and the Three Fires
iii	Dakṣiṇāgni (The Southern Fire)
iv	The Pavamāna-offerings at the Agnyādhāna
v	Five Fires - In Daily Rites
vi	Yajña in Religious and Śāstric Texts vii	Fire worship in the Rāmāyaṇa
viii	Fire worship in the Epic Mahābhārata
Ix	Vedic Modes of worship in Kauṭilya's Arthaśāstra
x	Fire Worship in the Purāṇas
xi	Four Kinds of Yajña
xii	Altar in the Brāhmaṇa Period

xiii	The Concept of the Double Altar
xiv	Traditional Part of Yajña
Chapter III	Yajña Then & Today	193-178
i	Society and Fire worship
ii	Utility and need of Yajña in Present Time iii	Names and epithets of the Agni God
iv	The Fire – God Agni in relation to other Gods
Chapter IV	Conclusion	194-201
	Bibliography	202-206
	Appendix	207-220