

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I would like to express my immense gratitude to my guide Dr. M. Sreedevi Xavier, Associate Professor, Department of Sociology, Faculty of Arts of The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda, Vadodara. It has been her valuable insights, timely guidance and expert advice that had been the driving force in carrying this thesis to fruition. I am greatly indebted to her for her faith and understanding in me and my work and persuading me to overcome whatever difficulties I have faced during these years of my PhD work.

I would like to acknowledge Professor P. S. Choondawat, Offg.Head, Department of Sociology, The M. S. University of Baroda for his support.

I cannot find words to express my gratitude to all my respondents and also the management of different Hospitals and Old-age homes who willingly cooperated and spend their valuable time in sharing the required information.

My field work, which is the crux of this research, would not have been possible had it not been for the active support and help of so many good natured people who were more than willing to help, even through their busy schedule or on holidays.

While I will always remember this exhaustive list of unnamed philanthropists with a profound sense of gratitude, I would like to specifically acknowledge the help and support rendered to me by: Dr. Viren Doshi, Director, Tribhuvandas Foundation, Mr. Jagdeesh Rao, ED, Foundation for Ecological Security, Mr. Deepak Pandya, Manager, Kutch Navnirman Abhiyan (KNNa) and Ujjas Mahila Sangattan and all their team members

I also owe my deepest gratitude to Mr. Moin Sayed, Mr. Panchal, Ms Priyanka, Dr Sanjay, Ms. Shilpa Gondalia, Mr. Irshad Mulla, Mr. Nemchandbhai Trivedi for the immense help and support they have rendered to me during my field work. There are no words to express my gratitude to Mr. & Mrs. Haribhai Panchal for letting me stay with them throughout my field work in Kachchh district.

I would like to convey my thanks to all my friends and colleagues especially Ms. Minasree Borgohain, Mr. Deb Ranjan Hota, Ms. Mary Mol Biju, Ms. Ananya

Majumdar for providing the required help, support and encouragement throughout the period of my research.

I convey my heartfelt thanks to my university, The Maharaja Sayajirao University of Baroda for offering me an ideal platform, atmosphere and facility required to carry out the research work successfully.

I would like to thank The M. S. University administrative staff and Library staff for offering me the resources and assistance for the program. I would also like to convey my thanks to Mr. Nilesh Dave, supporting staff of Department of Sociology, Faculty of Arts, The M. S. University of Baroda.

Words would not suffice to express my gratitude and love for the understanding, help, support and motivation I received from my husband, Dr. A. V. Hari Kumar and my beloved children, Aditya, V. T. and Annapoorna Harikumar throughout my work.

My PhD would have remained a dream if not for my beloved father Late Mr. K. V. Kumaran who had constantly motivated me to pursue my higher studies. I extend my love and prayers to him for his immense faith in my ability.

I would like to express my immense gratitude and affection to my dear brother K. T. Dhanesh Kumar for always standing by me and being there for me with all support and motivation.

Lastly I would like to express my love and deepest gratitude to my entire family especially my mother Smt. P. T. Sathi Devi, my mother-in-law Smt. Susheela Narayan for their constant support, encouragement and motivation throughout my work.
